Subject: International Law and the Regulation of the Corporate Social Responsibility of the Canadian Extractive Sector in Developing Countries

Date: November 9, 2006

I. Introduction

In June 2005, the 38th Parliament's Standing Committee on Foreign Affairs and International Trade ("SCFAIT") issued its Report, Mining in Developing Countries and Corporate Social Responsibility. In response to the SCFAIT Report, the Government of Canada has hosted National Roundtables on Corporate Social Responsibility and the Canadian Extractive Sector in Developing Countries.

The SCFAIT Report and certain submissions to National Roundtables held to date in Vancouver, Calgary and Toronto have recommended that the Government of Canada establish legal norms to ensure that Canadian companies are held accountable when there is evidence of environmental and/or human rights violations associated with the activities of Canadian mining

Reconciling International Trade and Labor Protection Wolfgang Plasa, 2015-08-20 Over the last two decades or so a number of developing countries have become important suppliers of manufactured goods A good deal of these goods are produced under extremely poor working conditions incompatible with the fundamental rights and freedoms However WTO rules do not allow restrictions on imports of such goods and the ILO hardly ever sanctions violations of international labor standards On the one hand this leaves exporting countries free to compromise on labor protection in order to enhance their competitiveness on foreign markets On the other hand importing countries are obliged to keep their markets open for goods produced under substandard labor conditions This gives rise to the question of whether the rules of the multilateral trading system should be linked to international labor standards This study argues that there are two trade related reasons for establishing such a link The first one is commonly referred to as social dumping GATT rules enshrine the principles that should govern international trade fairness and responsibility These principles should also apply where trade meets labor protection Exporting goods made under substandard labor conditions is unfair and distorts trade It would therefore be consistent to make social dumping actionable The other reason concerns the responsibility of importing countries Increased imports of goods produced under substandard labor conditions are an incentive for the exporting country to produce more goods under the same labor conditions and ship them to the same importing country This results in a proliferation of violations of labor standards for which the importing country shares the responsibility There is a need to adopt a link between trade and labor standards enabling the importing country to cap imports in order to escape the blame Militarizing the Environment Robert P. Marzec, 2015-12-21 As the seriousness of climate change becomes more and more obvious military institutions are responding by taking a prominent role in the governing of environmental concerns engaging in climate change war games and preparing for the effects of climate change from conflicts due to loss of food water and energy to the mass migration of millions of people displaced by rising sea levels This combat oriented stance stems from a self destructive pattern of thought that Robert P Marzec names environmentalism an attitude that has been affecting human environmental relations since the seventeenth century Militarizing the Environment traces the rise of this influential mindset in America and other nations that threatens to supplant ideas of sustainability with demands for adaptation In this extensive historical study of scientific military political and economic formations across five centuries Marzec reveals how environmentalism has been instrumental in the development of today's security society informing the creation of the military industrial complex during World War II and the National Security Act that established the CIA during the Cold War Now embedded in contemporary Western thought environmentalism has even infiltrated scientific thinking transforming Darwinian insights into a quasi theology that makes security the biological basis of existence Marzec exposes the self destructive nature of this increasingly accepted worldview and offers alternatives that counter the blind alleys of national and global security Encyclopedia of Global Justice Deen K.
