Sold by the Millions Louise Lightfoot, Amit Sarwal, 2011-12-08 Australian genre fiction writers have successfully exploited the Australian landscape and peoples and as a result their books are today sold by the millions across boundaries. They have created stories that are imaginative, visionary and diverse. They appeal to local and international readerships and most importantly are thoroughly entertaining, thus making them a strong presence in the popular fiction bazaar. Sold by the Millions Australia's Bestsellers is the first collection to concentrate on Australia's best selling material that forms the armchair reading of many Australians. Leading experts of popular fiction provide introspective pieces on Romance, Horror, Crime, Science Fiction, Western, Comics, Travel, Sports and Children's writing so that a wholesome picture emerges of the wide range of reading and research options available for scholars.

The Cambridge Guide to Women's Writing in English Lorna Sage, 1999-09-30 This Guide aims to consolidate and epitomise the re-reading of women's writing that has gone on in the last twenty-five years. This is an opportunity for stock-taking, a timely project when so much writing has been rediscovered, reclaimed and republished. There are entries on writers, on individual texts and on general terms, genres and movements, all printed in a single alphabetical sequence. The earliest written documents in medieval English, the visionary writings of Julian of Norwich and Margery Kempe, are covered in an historical and geographical sweep that takes us up to the present day. The book reflects the spread of literacy, the history of colonisation and the development of post-colonial cultures, using and changing the English language. The entries are written by contributors from all the countries covered. The result is a work of reference with a unique feeling for the vitality, wealth and diversity of women's writing.

The Powers of Literacy (RLE Edu I) Bill Cope, Mary Kalantzis, 2014-06-17 Literacy remains a contentious and polarized educational, media and political issue. What has emerged from the continuing debate is a recognition that literacy in education is allied closely with matters of language and culture, ideology and discourse, knowledge and power. Drawing perspectives variously from critical social theory and cultural studies, poststructuralism and feminism, sociolinguistics and the ethnography of communication, social history and comparative education, the contributors begin a critical interrogation of taken-for-granted assumptions which have guided educational policy research and practice.

Teenagers and Reading Jacqueline Manuel, Sue Brindley, 2012 Teenagers and Reading: Literary heritages, cultural contexts and contemporary reading practices brings together international research and practical perspectives on the current state of teenagers' reading. The contributions by teachers, researchers and other educators explore the what, how, when, where and why of adolescents' reading, advancing our understanding of the relationships between and among teenage readers, texts and contexts.

Crime Fiction Stephen Knight, 2018-07-10 Australian crime fiction has grown from the country's origins as an 18th century English prison colony. Early stories focused on escaped convicts becoming heroic bush rangers or how the system mistreated those who were wrongfully convicted. Later came thrillers about wealthy free settlers and lawless gold seekers and urban crime fiction including Fergus Hume's 1887 international best seller The Mystery of a Hansom Cab set in Melbourne. The 1980s saw a surge of private eye thrillers popular in a society skeptical of police. Twenty first century authors have focused on policemen and increasingly policewomen and finally indigenous crime narratives. The author explores in detail this rich but little known national subgenre.
