Nationalism in India

Modern nationalism in Europe came to be associated with the formation of nation-states. It also meant a change in people's understanding of who they were, and what defined their identity and sense of belonging. New symbols and icons, new songs and ideas forged new links and redefined the boundaries of communities. In most countries the making of this new national identity was a long process. How did this consciousness emerge in India ?

In India and in many other colonies, the growth of modern nationalism is intimately connected to the anti-colonial movement. People began discovering their unity in the process of their struggle with colonialism. The sense of being oppressed under colonialism provided a shared bond that had many different groups together. But each class and group felt the effects of colonialism differently. Their requirements were varied, and their notions of freedom were not always the same. The Congress under Mahatma Gandhi tried to bring these groups together within one movement. But the unity did not always without conflict.

11.2 How was the growth of modern nationalism intimately connected to the anti-colonial movement ?
