Managing Human Resources 7th Edition Powerpoint:

Public Personnel Management Jared J. Llorens, 2017-12-14 Now in a thoroughly revised 7th edition Public Personnel Management focuses on the critical issues and common processes in the management of public sector personnel. In keeping with prior editions, the text centers on the core processes within public human resource management: strategic workforce planning, effective recruitment and retention, workforce development, and employee relations. Designed to further address the ways in which expectations for human resource managers have changed and developed in recent years, the 7th edition includes several new features and improvements: Substantially restructured, updated, and additional case studies and student exercises; Coverage of how the field of Public HRM has been influenced by the two most recent national recessions, economic downturns at the state and local level, privatization, and contracting trends at all levels of government; the growing presence of millennial employees in the workplace; issues surrounding social media use within the workplace; the evolving goals of social equity and diversity; and the shifting role and influence of labor unions. Discussions of how the growth in information technology capabilities has influenced the major processes within HRM, from workforce analysis through big data analytics to the explosion in automated recruitment, assessment, and instructional technologies. For the first time, the text includes an online Instructor's Manual, PowerPoint slides, discussion questions, and suggestions for further reading to make it even easier to assign and use this classic text in the classroom. Providing the most up-to-date and thorough overview of the history and practice of public human resource management for both undergraduate and graduate students, Public Personnel Management 7e remains the beloved text it ever was, ideal for introductory courses in Public Personnel Management, Public Human Resource Management, and Nonprofit Personnel Management. HUMAN CAPITAL DEVELOPMENT IN SERVICES JOB Asst. Prof. Dr. Kannapat Kankaew, 2021-03-02 The purpose of this study is to 1) study the level and the differences of development of human capital and human capital competency in aviation and service satisfaction of ground service officers, 2) study the development of human capital that affects the competency of ground service officers, 3) Study the aviation human capital of ground service officers that satisfy the passengers. This research is primarily quantitative research, and the qualitative was supplemented by structured in-depth interviews to foster the results. The sampling groups were divided into two main groups. The first samples were those who work in the aviation industry, consisting of full-service airlines and low-cost airlines senior staff level. The second group was full-service and low-cost airline passengers. The data was collected through questionnaires for quantitative. While the qualitative was conducted by interviewing the airlines executives. The first objective found that the approaches to developing aviation capital from airlines employee perspectives are classroom training, learning organization, job rotation, a field trip for learning and education at highest level. Whereas the competencies that fit for aviation human capital are having a volunteer attitude, cultural diversity, management communication, and interaction skills, communication skills of the foreign language, technological skills, creativity, and innovation for the job improvement service.

minded continuous learning for self improvement ethics and morals being expertise in career and job achievement at the highest level The result of passengers satisfaction on service quality responsiveness to passengers needs reliability and assurance and service expectation at highest level The second objective the approaches affecting aviation human capital development are classroom training job rotation on the job training coaching and learning organization And the third objective the competences affect passengers satisfaction towards ground service officers are communication skills of the foreign language continuous learning for self improvement having a volunteer attitude service minded communication and interaction skills teamwork emotional quotient cultural diversity management and ethics and morals The recommendation from this research for policymakers of the government agencies to monitor the aviation standards for the development of aviation personnel The government agencies should implement policy on the manpower development process for the ground service systematically Considering that the institutions should apply the methods of learning and development as well as the necessary competencies to students
