

Short Essay

My Dream Job

My dream job is to become a doctor. I have always admired doctors because they help sick people and save lives. Being a doctor is not just a job; it is a noble profession that makes a big difference in the world.

I want to work in a big hospital where I can treat many patients. I imagine myself wearing a white coat and using my knowledge to make people feel better. Helping others brings me happiness and satisfaction, which is why I want to dedicate my life to this profession.

To achieve my dream, I know I need to study hard and stay focused. Science and biology are my favorite subjects, and I enjoy learning about the human body. My parents and teachers always encourage me and support my dream of becoming a doctor.

I also want to treat everyone with kindness and care, no matter who they are. Doctors have the power to bring hope and smiles to people during difficult times.

When I grow up, I hope to make my community proud by being a good doctor. Helping others is my passion, and I will work hard to achieve my dream.

What is Global Engineering Education For? Gary Lee Downey, Kacey Beddoes, 2010-11-01 Global engineering offers the seductive image of engineers figuring out how to optimize work through collaboration and mobility Its biggest challenge to engineers however is more fundamental and difficult to better understand what they know and value qua engineers and why This volume reports an experimental effort to help sixteen engineering educators produce personal geographies describing what led them to make risky career commitments to international and global engineering education The contents of their diverse trajectories stand out in extending far beyond the narrower image of producing globally competent engineers Their personal geographies repeatedly highlight experiences of incongruence beyond home countries that provoked them to see themselves and understand their knowledge differently The experiences were sufficiently profound to motivate them to design educational experiences that could provoke engineering students in similar ways For nine engineers gaining new international knowledge challenged assumptions that engineering work and life are limited to purely technical practices compelling explicit attention to broader value commitments For five non engineers and two hybrids gaining new international knowledge fueled ambitions to help engineering students better recognize and critically examine the broader value commitments in their work A background chapter examines the historical emergence of international engineering education in the United States and an epilogue explores what it might take to integrate practices of critical self analysis more systematically in the education and training of engineers Two appendices and two online supplements describe the unique research process that generated these personal geographies especially the workshop at the U S National Academy of Engineering in which authors were prohibited from participating in discussions of their manuscripts

Alien Winds James W. Tollefson,1989-06 Alien Winds presents the first critical analysis of U S refugee processing centers in Southeast Asia Based on twenty months of work in refugee camps from 1983 1986 and an analysis of documents obtained under the Freedom of Information Act this book challenges the widely held view that the refugee education program results in successful resettlement The author contends that in its zeal to Americanize Southeast Asians this program seeks to replace ties to their traditional community with a commitment to the myths of American success ideology and the moral principle of self sufficiency He concludes that the program actually disempowers the refugees by robbing them of their sense of community and often their dignity Without regard to skills or education it prepares refugees for long term employment in dead end minimum wage jobs Of particular interest to teachers of English as a second language and scholars in the fields of education sociology anthropology and Southeast Asian studies Alien Winds concludes with recommendations for overseas centers and domestic resettlement programs From its inception the U S refugee resettlement program faced difficult questions What are the main difficulties facing Southeast Asians in the United States What do refugees need to know in order to resettle successfully How should successful resettlement be defined Should there be different notions of success for different groups of people What values do Americans share Must newcomers adopt these values Alien Winds examines the American answers to these questions as they are formulated and conveyed to the refugees It also explores the sources of these answers To this end it examines important assumptions about immigrants that originated in educational programs during the early part of this century It further explores the aims and structures of the organizations which created and operate the processing centers Finally Alien Winds analyzes the role of the refugee program in America s shared memory of Vietnam
