Bisang, Andrej Malchukov, 2020-09-21 This volume intends to fill the gap in the grammaticalization studies setting as its goal the systematic description of grammaticalization processes in genealogically and structurally diverse languages To address the problem of the limitations of the secondary sources for grammaticalization studies the editors rely on sketches of grammaticalization phenomena from experts in individual languages guided by a typological questionnaire

Cross-linguistic Semantics Cliff Goddard, 2008 Cross linguistic semantics investigating how languages package and express meanings differently is central to the linguistic quest to understand the nature of human language This set of studies explores and demonstrates cross linguistic semantics as practised in the natural semantic metalanguage NSM framework originated by Anna Wierzbicka The opening chapters give a state of the art overview of the NSM model propose several theoretical innovations and advance a number of original analyses in connection with names and naming clefts and other specificational sentences and discourse anaphora Subsequent chapters describe and analyse diverse phenomena in ten languages from multiple families geographical locations and cultural settings around the globe Three substantial studies document how the metalanguage of NSM semantic primes can be realised in languages of widely differing types Amharic Ethiopia Korean and East Cree Each constitutes a lexicogrammatical portrait in miniature of the language concerned Other chapters probe topics such as inalienable possession in Koromu Papua New Guinea epistemic verbs in Swedish hyperpolysemy in Bunuba Australia the expression of momentariness in Berber ethnogeometry in Makasai East Timor value concepts in Russian and virtuous emotions in Japanese This book will be valuable for linguists working on language

description lexical semantics or the semantics of grammar for advanced students of linguistics and for others interested in language universals and language diversity

Diachrony of differential argument marking Ilja A. Seržant, Alena Witzlack-Makarevich, 2018 While there are languages that code a particular grammatical role e.g. subject or direct object in one and the same way across the board many more languages code the same grammatical roles differentially The variables which condition the differential argument marking or DAM pertain to various properties of the NP such as animacy or definiteness or to event semantics or various properties of the clause While the main line of current research on DAM is mainly synchronic the volume tackles the diachronic perspective The tenet is that the emergence and the development of differential marking systems provide a different kind of evidence for the understanding of the phenomenon The present volume consists of 18 chapters and primarily brings together diachronic case studies on particular languages or language groups including e.g. Finno-Ugric, Sino-Tibetan and Japonic languages The volume also includes a position paper which provides an overview of the typology of different subtypes of DAM systems a chapter on computer simulation of the emergence of DAM and a chapter devoted to the cross-linguistic effects of referential hierarchies on DAM

Speech Representation in the History of English Peter J. Grund, Terry Walker, 2020-11-12 This volume explores how speakers and writers mark structure and discuss a previous speech event or fictional speech in historical periods Focusing on the Early Modern English and the Late Modern English periods the book covers multiple genres including witness depositions literary texts letters histories and spoken language The chapters draw on historical sociolinguistics historical pragmatics and corpus linguistics to show a wide array of approaches to the study of speech representation in the history of English
