Street Journal The Holocaust Paul R. Bartrop, Eve E. Grimm, 2022-05-18 This volume provides an indispensable resource for anyone studying the Holocaust. The reference entries are enhanced by documents and other tools that make this volume a vital contribution to Holocaust research. This volume showcases a detailed look at the multifaceted attempts by Germany's Nazi regime together with its collaborators to annihilate the Jews of Europe during the Holocaust. Several introductory essays along with a rich chronology, reference entries, primary documents, images, and a bibliography provide crucial information that readers will need in order to try to understand the Holocaust while undertaking research on that horrible event. This text looks not only at the history of the Holocaust but also at examples of resistance through armed violence, attempts at rescue, or the very act of survival itself; literary and cultural expressions that have attempted to deal with the Holocaust; the social and psychological implications of the Holocaust for today; and how historians and others have attempted to do justice to the memory of those killed and seek insight into why the Holocaust happened in the first place. Auschwitz, 1940-1945: The prisoners, their life and work, 2000 The Fanatics Maxwell Taylor, 1991 News reports of the latest atrocity by political extremists are often explained as extreme acts by unbalanced individuals who bear little resemblance to the normal people around us. This book warns that this explanation, though satisfying, is an oversimplification which does not help us to understand why individuals use violence to achieve political ends. The author adopts an interdisciplinary approach to help define the concept of fanaticism, understand how individual behaviour is controlled, and identifies the three elements in an ideology likely to result in violent expression: the Millenarian promise of a utopian future, an emphasis on the role of the individual in attaining the perfect future state, and the absence of public space, an individual's access to broader social and political discussion and opinion. The book discusses fanaticism in groups as diverse as the Bader-Meinhold Gang, the Ku Klux Klan, and the suffragette movement. The closing chapter discusses the My Lai massacre and underlines the ability of ordinary individuals to commit extreme and violent acts in extraordinary circumstances. Sights, Sounds, and Sensibilities of Atrocity Prosecutions, 2024-07-29 This book unlocks the look, sound, smell, taste, and feel of justice for massive human rights abuses. Twenty-nine expert authors examine the dynamics of the five human senses in how atrocity is perceived, remembered, and condemned. This book is chockful of images. It serves up remarkably diverse content. It treks around the globe from Pacific War crimes trials in the aftermath of the Second World War to Holocaust proceedings in contemporary Germany, France, and Israel; from absurd show trials in Communist Czechoslovakia to international courtrooms in Arusha, Phnom Penh, and The Hague. Readers embark on a journey that transcends myriad dimensions, including photographic representations of grandfatherly old torturers in Argentina, narco-trafficking in Mexico, colonialisation in India, disinformation and misinformation pixelated in cyberspace, environmental degradation in Cambodia, militarism in Northern Ireland, and civil rights activism in Atlanta. Sights, Sounds, and Sensibilities of Atrocity Prosecutions reimagines what an atrocity means, reconsiders what drives the manufacture of law, and reboots the role of courtrooms and other mechanisms in the pursuit of justice It unveils how law translates sensory experience into its procedures and institutions and how humanistic inputs shape perceptions of right and wrong This book thereby offers a refreshing primer on the underappreciated role of aesthetics time and emotion in the world of law Drumbl and Fournet have done us all a great service in knitting together in a single powerfully imagined volume these essays about how we might experience the institutionalisation of judgment in atrocity trials Gerry Simpson Professor of Public International Law LSE Law School London Contributions to this volume offer a unique opportunity to delve into law s hidden landscape using the primary reality of the five senses Marina Aksenova Assistant Professor in Comparative and International Criminal Law IE Law School Madrid
