Memorandum Of Life Science P2014 Term 4:

Future Design Tatsuyoshi Saijo, 2020-07-25 This book discusses imaginary future generations and how current decision making will influence those future generations Markets and democracies focus on the present and therefore tend to make us forget that we are living in the present with ancestors preceding and descendants succeeding us Markets are excellent devices to equate supply and demand in the short term but not for allocating resources between current and future generations since future generations do not exist yet Democracy is also not applicable for future generations since citizens vote for candidates who will serve members of their i e the current generation In order to overcome these shortcomings the authors discuss imaginary future generations and future ministries in the context of current decision making in fields such as the environment urban management forestry water management and finance The idea of imaginary future generations comes from the Native American Iroquois who had strong norms that compelled them to incorporate the interests of people seven generations ahead when making decisions

Biopolitics of the More-Than-Human Joseph Pugliese, 2020-10-23 In Biopolitics of the More Than Human Joseph Pugliese examines the concept of the biopolitical through a nonanthropocentric lens arguing that more than human entities from soil and orchards to animals and water are actors and agents in their own right with legitimate claims to justice

Examining occupied Palestine Guantanamo and sites of US drone strikes in Afghanistan Pakistan Somalia and Yemen Pugliese challenges notions of human exceptionalism by arguing that more than human victims of war and colonialism are entangled with and subject to the same violent biopolitical regimes as humans He also draws on Indigenous epistemologies that invest more than human entities with judicial standing to argue for an ethico legal framework that will enable the realization of ecological justice Bringing the more than human world into the purview of justice Pugliese makes visible the ecological effects of human war that would otherwise remain outside the domains of biopolitics and law Canadian Almanac & Directory, 2014 Tannys Williams, 2013-10 The Canadian Almanac Directory is the most complete source of Canadian information available cultural professional and financial institutions legislative governmental judicial and educational organizations Canada's authoritative sourcebook for all Publications of the Jet Propulsion Laboratory, 1968
