Integrating the Smart Home and Its Owner, Books 1 and 2 Andy Lynn Jackson, 2003-03 Did you know that it's not unusual for upscale homeowners to pay 30 000 to 50 000 for high end home automation This book shows readers how to do it for one tenth of that The author is a former network engineer holding Microsoft and Cisco certifications The Carbon Buster's Home Energy Handbook Godo Stoyke, 2006-11-01 Most people are unaware that environmental problems such as climate change can be easily avoided at a profit through the intelligent application of appropriate technology The Carbon Buster's Home Energy Handbook describes how to achieve this goal in the residential field The first book in North America to provide a detailed carbon accounting of a family's carbon emissions and how to reduce them it systematically analyzes energy costs and evaluates which measures yield the highest returns for the environment and the pocketbook It provides answers to questions such as Which measure is more effective putting solar panels on your roof or buying a hybrid car Where do I need to invest first in high efficiency shower heads or solar tubes Is a 500 fridge that uses 800 kWh of power per year a good buy The book allows individuals to quickly and accurately assess which products are a good deal and which aren't It systematically analyzes residential carbon emissions and energy costs and prioritizes solutions based on highest carbon reductions and monetary returns yielding results that are often surprising The book enables readers to dramatically reduce their carbon emissions far below the levels targeted under the Kyoto Protocol At the same time readers implementing the recommendations will save an average of 15 000 in energy costs over the next five years Prepare for Zombies, Survive a Flood Michael Walton, 2023-11-06 Disaster can strike at any time and most people are not prepared for it Disaster preparedness is essential but most find it unexciting However anyone who has watched a zombie movie has a plan in mind for how they would survive it and those imaginary plans translate well to real world disaster scenarios Using the backdrop of some of the most well known zombie properties Night of the Living Dead 28 Days Later and The Walking Dead this book is a guide for preparing for a disaster or service interruption lasting from just a few days to several weeks or more Food water shelter personal safety all the topics are discussed including what to do when you are forced to leave your shelter and where to go Readers will learn to comfortably and confidently face fires floods tornadoes strong storms roving zombies or even rampaging kaiju Pervasive Computing Patrik Floréen, Antonio Krüger, Mirjana Spasojevic, 2010-04-23 Welcome to the proceedings of the 8 International Conference on Pervasive Computing Pervasive 2010 After Toronto Sydney and Nara the conference has now returned to Europe Pervasive is one of the most important conferences in the area of pervasive and ubiquitous computing As in the previous year we had two categories of technical papers Full Papers and Notes Pervasive attracted 157 valid submissions from which the Technical Program Committee TPC accepted 24 full papers and one note resulting in an overall acceptance rate of 16% The submissions included 628 authors from 27 countries representing all the continents except Antarctica As we can see from these figures Pervasive is a truly global highly competitive conference A major conference such as Pervasive requires a rigorous and objective process for selecting papers This starts with the selection of a high quality TPC We were fortunate to be able to draw on the wisdom and experience of our 28 TPC members from the most prestigious universities and research labs in North America and Asia This committee was aided by the input of no less than 238 external reviewers chosen on the basis of their domain knowledge and relevance to pervasive computing The papers were selected using a double blind review with four peer reviews per paper and a discussion phase among the reviewers and a discussion of the papers in the TPC meeting which was held in Palo Alto during December 12-13 2009 We thank Nokia Research Center for hosting the meeting

How the Brain Processes Multimodal Technical Instructions Dirk Remley, 2016-12-05 While Aristotle acknowledges the connection between rhetoric biology and cognitive abilities scholarship continues to struggle to integrate the fields of rhetoric and neurobiology Drawing on recent work in neuro-rhetoric this book offers a model that integrates multimodal rhetorical theory and multisensory neural processing theory pertaining to cognition and learning Using existing theories from multimodal rhetoric and specific findings from neurobiological studies the author develops a model that integrates concepts from both fields bridging if not uniting them He also discusses possible applications of the new model with specific case studies related to training and instruction These applications include various media used in instructional and training contexts such as print slide shows videos simulations and hands on training The book thus introduces concepts of cognitive neuroscience to multimodal rhetorical theory and facilitates theorization combining multimodal rhetoric and multisensory cognition and serves as a vehicle by which readers can better understand the links between multimodal rhetoric and cognitive neuroscience associated with technical communication Integrating case studies from industry and practice the text makes explicit connections between academic scholarship and workplace preparation It also describes how interdisciplinary research can contribute to pharmaceutical research as well as the development of productive instructional materials Rhetoric is affected by how the brain of any member of a given audience can process information This book can promote further research qualitative and quantitative to develop a better understanding of the relationship between multimodal messages and how the brain processes such information
