An International History of the Cuban Missile Crisis David Gioe, Len Scott, Christopher Andrew, 2014-06-05 This edited volume addresses the main lessons and legacies of the 1962 Cuban Missile Crisis from a global perspective Despite the discoveries of recent research there is still much more to be revealed about the handling of nuclear weapons before and during the Cuban Missile Crisis CMC Featuring contributions from a number of eminent international scholars of nuclear history intelligence espionage political science and Cold War studies An International History of the Cuban Missile Crisis reviews and reflects on one of the critical moments of the Cold War focussing on three key areas First the volume highlights the importance of memory as an essential foundation of historical understanding and demonstrates how events that rely only on historical records can provide misleading accounts This focus on memory extends the scope of the existing literature by exploring hitherto neglected aspects of the CMC including an analysis of the operational aspects of Bomber Command activity explored through recollections of the aircrews that challenge accounts based on official records The editors then go on to explore aspects of intelligence whose achievements and failings have increasingly been recognised to be of central importance to the origins dynamics and outcomes of the missile crisis Studies of hitherto neglected organisations such as the US Defense Intelligence Agency DIA and the British Joint Intelligence Committee JIC both extend our understanding of British and American intelligence machinery in this period and enrich our understanding of key episodes and assessments in the missile crisis Finally the book explores the risk of nuclear war and looks at how close we came to nuclear conflict The risk of inadvertent use of nuclear weapons is evaluated and a new proposed framework for the analysis of nuclear risk put forward This volume will be of much interest to students of intelligence studies international history foreign policy security studies and IR in general

Dangerous Allies Malcolm Fraser, Cain Roberts, 2016-04-12 Australia has always been reliant on great and powerful friends for its sense of national security and for direction on its foreign policy first on the British Empire and now on the United States Australia has actively pursued a policy of strategic dependence believing that making a grand bargain with a powerful ally was the best policy to ensure its security and prosperity Dangerous Allies examines Australia s history of strategic dependence and questions the continuation of this position It argues that international circumstances in the world and in the Western Pacific especially now make such a policy highly questionable Since the fall of the Soviet Union the United States has also changed dramatically making it less relevant to Australia and a less appropriate ally on which Australia should rely Malcolm Fraser argues that Australia should adopt a much greater degree of independence in foreign policy and that we should no longer merely follow other nations into wars of no direct interest to Australia or Australia's security. He argues for an end to strategic dependence and for the timely establishment of a truly independent Australia.

Handbook of Governance and Security James Sperling, 2014-08-29 The Handbook is divided into four sections which examine in turn the emergence, evolution and forms of security governance as well as the theoretical orientations that have so far dominated the literature: networks, multilateralism, regimes and systems. Parliamentary Debates, House of the People

India. Parliament. Lok Sabha, 2013-04-26 The Welsh Language Commissioner in Context Diarmait Mac Giolla Chríost, Professor Diarmait Mac Giolla, 2016-07-20 It is the first book on the subject; much of the research data provides a unique insight to the development of government policy and is exclusive to this book. Several of the research results are quite striking and will be of great interest to academics and policy actors alike. Lok Sabha Debates India. Parliament. Lok Sabha, 2013 China as a Twenty-First Century Naval Power Michael A. McDevitt, 2020-10-15 Xi Jinping has made his ambitions for the People's Liberation Army (PLA) perfectly clear: there is no mystery what he wants. First, that China should become a great maritime power; and secondly, that the PLA become a world-class armed force by 2050. He wants this latter objective to be largely completed by 2035. China as a Twenty-First Century Naval Power focuses on China's navy and how it is being transformed to satisfy the world-class goal. Beginning with an exploration of why China is seeking to become such a major maritime power, author Michael McDevitt first explores the strategic rationale behind Xi's two objectives: China's reliance on foreign trade and overseas interests such as China's Belt and Road strategy. In turn, this has created concerns within the senior levels of China's military about the vulnerability of its overseas interests, and maritime life lines is a major theme. McDevitt dubs this China's sea lane anxiety and traces how this has required the PLA Navy to evolve from a near-seas focused navy to one that has global reach: a blue water navy. He details how quickly this transformation has taken place thanks to a patient step-by-step approach and abundant funding. The more than 10 years of anti-piracy patrols in the far reaches of the Indian Ocean has acted as a learning curve accelerator to blue water status. McDevitt then explores the PLA Navy's role in the South China Sea and the Indian Ocean. He provides a detailed assessment of what the PLAN will be expected to do if Beijing chooses to attack Taiwan, potentially triggering combat with America's first responders in East Asia, especially the U.S. Seventh Fleet and U.S. Fifth Air Force. He conducts a close exploration of how the PLA Navy fits into China's campaign plan aimed at keeping reinforcing U.S. forces at arm's length, what the Pentagon calls anti-access and area denial (A2/AD) if war has broken out over Taiwan, or because of attacks on U.S. allies and friends that live in the shadow of China. McDevitt does not know how Xi defines world-class, but the evidence from the past 15 years of building a blue water force has already made the PLA Navy the second largest globally capable navy in the world. This book concludes with a forecast of what Xi's vision of a world-class navy might look like in the next fifteen years when the 2035 deadline is reached.
