Current Trends and Future Developments on (Bio-) Membranes Angelo Basile, Evangelos P. Favvas, 2023-11-21
Modern Approaches in Membrane Technology for Gas Separation and Water Treatment presents condensed information on novel and promising membrane materials. The book answers some major questions from the membrane community about three promising materials that are to be introduced at industrial scale. It introduces recent out of the box ideas concerning the application of new methods capable to enhance the membrane separation efficiency. Sections cover potential commercialization, important question on three famous membrane materials and new approaches in membrane technology. Finally, the book describes and discusses three novel ideas about the potential effect of the magnetic field on membrane separation efficiency, the use of cryogenic technology on membrane separations and the use of nanobubble technology on water membrane processes. Focuses on the necessity for environmental friendly and cost effective purification and separation process. Lists all new membrane materials suitable for commercialization. Presents new modern approaches and ideas for improving the membrane efficiency. Government-wide Index to Federal Research & Development Reports, 1967

These volumes discuss matters of great relevance to our world on desalination which is a critically important as clearly the only possible means of producing fresh water from the sea for many parts of the world. The two volumes present state of the art subject matter of various aspects of Thermal desalination processes such as Multi Stage Flash evaporation MSF and Multi Effect Distillation MED and Mechanical Thermal Vapor Compression in addition to the Hybrid Desalination Systems Chemical Dosing For Desalination Control Scheme of the Plants Steady State Model Steady State Simulation Dynamic Model Economics and Performance of Desalination Plants. These volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences: University and College Students, Educators, Professional Practitioners, Research Personnel and Policy and Decision Makers. Government Reports Annual Index, 1974 Nuclear Desalination, 1969 U.S. Government Research and Development Reports Index, 1970 Desalination Research Progress Daniel J. Delgado, Pablo Moreno, 2008 As freshwater resources continue to decline as the population grows and development activities continue, desalination has taken on a sense of urgency. Desalination refers to any of several processes that remove excess salt and other minerals from water. Desalination may also refer to the removal of salts and minerals more generally as in soil desalination. This book includes within its scope distillation, membranes, reverse osmosis, electrodialysis, ion exchange, freezing water purification and water reuse and wastewater treatment This new volume examines new research in this frontier field

Hawaidi,2011 Among many seawater desalination processes the multistage flash MSF desalination process is a major source of fresh water around the world The most costly design and operation problem in seawater desalination is due to scale formation and corrosion problems Fouling factor is one of the many important parameters that affect the operation of MSF processes This thesis therefore focuses on determining the optimal design and operation strategy of MSF desalinations processes under fouling which will meet variable demand of freshwater First a steady state model of MSF is developed based on the basic laws of mass balance energy balance and heat transfer equations with supporting correlations for physical properties gPROMS software is used to develop the model which is validated against the results reported in the literature The model is then used in further investigations Based on actual plant data a simple dynamic fouling factor profile is developed which allows calculation of fouling factor at different time season of the year The role of changing brine heater fouling factor with varying seawater temperatures during the year on the plant performance and the monthly operating costs for fixed water demand and fixed top brine temperature are then studied The total monthly operation cost of the process are minimised while the operating parameters such as make up brine recycle flow rate and steam temperature are optimised It was found that the seasonal variation in seawater temperature and brine heater fouling factor results in significant variations in the operating parameters and operating costs The design and operation of the MSF process are optimized in order to meet variable demands of freshwater with changing seawater temperature throughout the day and throughout the year On the basis of actual data the neural network NN technique has been used to develop a correlation for calculating dynamic freshwater demand consumption profiles at different times of the day and season Also a simple polynomial based dynamic seawater temperature correlation is developed based on actual data An intermediate storage tank between the plant and the client is considered The MSF process model developed earlier is coupled with the dynamic model for the storage tank and is incorporated into the optimization framework within gPROMS Four main seasons are considered in a year and for each season with variable freshwater demand and seawater temperature the operating parameters are optimized at discrete time intervals while minimizing the total daily costs The intermediate storage tank adds flexible scheduling and maintenance opportunity of individual flash stages and makes it possible to meet variable freshwater demand with varying seawater temperatures without interrupting or fully shutting down the plant at any time during the day and for any season Finally the purity of freshwater coming from MSF desalination plants is very important when the water is used for industrial services such as feed of boiler to produce steam In this work for fixed water demand and top brine temperature the effect of separation efficiency of demister with seasonal variation of seawater temperatures on the final purity of freshwater for both cleaned and fouled demister conditions is studied It was found that the purity of freshwater is affected by the total number of stages Also to maintain the purity of freshwater product comparatively large number of flash stage is required for fouled demister
