Criminal Law's Person Claes Lernerstedt, Matt Matravers, 2022-02-10 The state's use of the threat and imposition of punishments to regulate conduct is thought or at least said by many to be legitimised by the idea that the criminal law's burdens only fall on those who are blameworthy for their conduct However the formal concept of blameworthiness needs to be made substantive This puts various ideas regarding the criminal law's person at the heart of debates about blame guilt and responsibility How is the criminal law's person constructed by whom and with what disciplinary norms How is it threatened by new knowledge and how do those threats play out amongst the various stakeholders who claim the criminal law's person as theirs To address these and cognate questions this volume brings together an international group of academics to engage with the criminal law's person from a range of disciplinary perspectives      The Reparable and the Irreparable Johann Michel, 2022-12-19 Since the mid twentieth century Western societies have seen an unprecedented increase in movements demands and policies in favor of reparations The historical catastrophes that shook the last century are both the immediate origin of this groundswell and its founding paradigm The Reparable and the Irreparable Being Human in the Age of Vulnerability places reparation within a wider contemporary context and describes it in its full anthropological depth Repair is a global phenomenon that does not present itself in a unified way Ideas of repair and reparation are expressed at different levels for instance one can mend a damaged object heal a wound redress an injury or make amends for an offence Johann Michel explores how repair and reparation tell us about human beings natural vulnerability our moral fallibility and our social incompleteness but also about the many capabilities we draw upon to mitigate these shortcomings It is from the heart of human finitude that repair and reparation draw meaning and the irreparable whether due to time or to a debt that can never be repaid haunt any policy of reparation Such are the challenges to be addressed by a philosophy of repair and reparation constructed in renewed dialogue with the social sciences
