

The battery is connected to the ignition switch, which is controlled by the driver. The current flows from the battery through the ignition switch, the distributor, and the spark plugs.

2.1 CHARGING SYSTEM
The charging system is responsible for recharging the battery. It consists of the alternator, the voltage regulator, and the battery. The alternator is driven by the engine and converts mechanical energy into electrical energy. The voltage regulator controls the output of the alternator to prevent overcharging the battery.
