Soulèvements Jean-Jacques Lebel, Jean de Loisy, 2009 The Uprisings exhibition at La Maison Rouge presents all facets of the work of Jean Jacques Lebel the artist but also that of Jean Jacques Lebel the exhibition curator writer performer festival organizer discoverer and active smuggler who has been an agitator within French artist circles over the past forty years More than an exhibition what we have here is a montage a Show editing to employ the term invented by the artist himself Lebel offers us a whole arranged in terms of the connections or caroms among the works among their contents not among their commercial values and this is done in such a way as to encourage movements of thought in all senses of the term In other words this montage is a unique way of presenting objects that a priori have nothing to do with each other but which share some common issues and modes of operation that serve to intensify one another Entitled Uprisings the exhibition pertains to a process that is at once artistic historical mental personal and social which implies a long process of maturation and multiple encounters influences exchanges and permutations JJJL The exhibition is divided into themes Each corresponds to Jean Jacques Lebel s obsession with the enigma which a work and the wider context of its emergence raise Happenings Insubordination Poetry Hallucination Eros Dada War and Rhizome are some examples Through these interconnecting ensembles visitors can engage with some of Jean Jacques Lebel s major installations works of primitive art works by anonymous artists and others by such important allies as Johann Heinrich F ssli Giuseppe Arcimboldo Louise Michel Fourier Ravachol Guillaume Apollinaire Marcel Duchamp Pablo Picasso Otto Dix George Grosz Andr Breton Francis Picabia Antonin Artaud Victor Brauner Bernard Heidsieck Err Antonio Saura Peter Saul Camilla Adami and Orlan some three hundred works in all which continue to engross the artist in an earnest and endless dialogue
