MEIOSIS

STRUCTURE AND ARRANGEMENT OF CHROMOSOMES IN A NORMAL HUMAN KARYOTYPE.

- Each chromosome comprises two chromatids✓
- held together by a centromere✓
- There are 23 pairs✓/46 chromosomes in
- human somatic cells✓/body cells
- which are arranged into homologous pairs✓
- that are similar in length✓
- carry genes for the same characteristics✓
- have alleles of a particular gene at the same loci✓and
- have the same centromere position✓
- Each somatic cell has 22 pairs✓/44 autosomes✓and
- a pair✓/2 gonosomes✓/sex chromosomes/X and Y chromosomes
- Autosomes are arranged in pairs from largest to smallest✓ in a karyotype
- Males have XY chromosomes✓
- Females have XX chromosomes✓
- The X chromosome is larger than the Y chromosome✓

BEHAVIOUR OF THE CHROMOSOMES DURING THE DIFFERENT PHASES OF MEIOSIS I.

- During prophase✓ I
- chromosomes pair✓up/homologous pairs /bivalents form
- Crossing over✓/exchange of genetic material occurs
- between chromatids✓/adjacent chromosome pairs
- During metaphase✓ I of meiosis
- homologous chromosomes✓/chromosome pairs are arranged
- at the equator✓of the cell
- in a random✓ way
- with the chromosome attached to the spindle fibre✓
- During anaphase✓ I
- chromosome pairs separate✓/chromosomes move to opposite poles
- During telophase✓ I
- the chromosomes reach the poles of the cell✓

Life Science Question Paper2 For September 2014

Paolo Tieri, Christine Nardini, Jennifer Elizabeth Dent

Life Science Question Paper 2 For September 2014:

Dual-use life science research and biosecurity in the 21st Century: Social, Technical, Policy, and Ethical Challenges Jonathan E. Suk, Kathleen M. Vogel, Amanda Jane Ozin, 2015-06-04 In September 2011 scientists announced new experimental findings that would not only threaten the conduct and publication of influenza research but would have significant policy and intelligence implications The findings presented a modified variant of the H5N1 avian influenza virus hereafter referred to as the H5N1 virus that was transmissible via aerosol between ferrets These results suggested a worrisome possibility the existence of a new airborne and highly lethal H5N1 virus that could cause a deadly global pandemic In response a series of international discussions on the nature of dual use life science arose These discussions addressed the complex social technical political security and ethical issues related to dual use research This Research Topic will be devoted to contributions that explore this matrix of issues from a variety of case study and international perspectives Value Practices in the Life Sciences and Medicine Isabelle Dussauge, Claes-Fredrik Helgesson, Francis Lee, 2015-01-29 Many deep concerns in the life sciences and medicine have to do with the enactment ordering and displacement of a broad range of values This volume articulates a pragmatist stance for the study of the making of values in society exploring various sites within life sciences and medicine and asking how values are at play This means taking seriously the work scientists regulators analysts professionals and publics regularly do in order to define what counts as proper conduct in science and health care what is economically valuable and what is known and worth knowing A number of analytical and methodological means to investigate these concerns are presented The editors introduce a way to indicate an empirically oriented research program into the enacting ordering and displacing of values They argue that a research programme of this kind makes it possible to move orthogonally to the question of what values are and thus ask how they are constituted This rectifies some central problems that arise with approaches that depend on stabilized understandings of value At the heart of it such a research programme encourages the examination of how and with what means certain things come to count as valuable and desirable how registers of value are ordered as well as displaced It further encourages a sense that these matters could be and sometimes simultaneously are otherwise Multi-omic Data Integration Paolo Tieri, Christine Nardini, Jennifer Elizabeth Dent, 2015-09-17 Stable predictive biomarkers and interpretable disease signatures are seen as a significant step towards personalized medicine In this perspective integration of multi omic data coming from genomics transcriptomics glycomics proteomics metabolomics is a powerful strategy to reconstruct and analyse complex multi dimensional interactions enabling deeper mechanistic and medical insight At the same time there is a rising concern that much of such different omic data although often publicly and freely available lie in databases and repositories underutilised or not used at all Issues coming from lack of standardisation and shared biological identities are also well known From these considerations a novel pressing request arises from the life sciences to design methodologies and approaches that allow for these data to be interpreted as a whole i.e. as intertwined molecular signatures containing genes, proteins, mRNAs and miRNAs able to capture inter-layer connections and complexity. Papers discuss data integration approaches and methods of several types and extents, their application in understanding the pathogenesis of specific diseases or in identifying candidate biomarkers to exploit the full benefit of multi-omic datasets and their intrinsic information content. Topics of interest include but are not limited to: Methods for the integration of layered data including but not limited to genomics, transcriptomics, glycomics, proteomics, metabolomics. Application of multi-omic data integration approaches for diagnostic biomarker discovery in any field of the life sciences. Innovative approaches for the analysis and the visualization of multi-omic datasets. Methods and applications for systematic measurements from single undivided samples comprising genomic, transcriptomic, proteomic, metabolomic measurements among others. Multi-scale approaches for integrated dynamic modelling and simulation. Implementation of applications, computational resources and repositories devoted to data integration including but not limited to data warehousing, database federation, semantic integration, service-oriented and/or wiki integration. Issues related to the definition and implementation of standards, shared identities and semantics with particular focus on the integration problem. Research papers, reviews and short communications on all topics related to the above issues were welcomed.

Governing Intellectual Property Rights Within Publicly Funded Biobanks Rajam Neethu, 2019-06-21

Governing Intellectual Property Rights Within Publicly Funded Biobanks R. Neethu. The boom in biobanks and health databases as research infrastructures have evoked various legal and ethical debates. Since then, numerous new developments have emerged such as digitalization, big data research and artificial intelligence, which has important implications for biobank-based research and collaborations. This new paradigm offers new legal challenges for commercial involvement, particularly within a publicly funded setting. In this innovative book, the author shows that securing maximum social benefit out of the knowledge emanating from the use of biobank resources lies in managing intellectual property inputs and outputs effectively in keeping with the values core to such research. Focusing on the challenges of involving intellectual property rights (IPRs) particularly in the precompetitive phase of biobank-based research, the book offers an extensive understanding of the role of different IPRs and identifies the gaps in the law and its implications for biobanks. The analysis covers important aspects in relation to biobanks such as Digital integration and biomedical data storage, Ownership of biological samples, Commercialization and benefit sharing, Partnership models, Public sector research, Disposition of samples, Consent, Cross-border exchange, Trade secrecy, Privacy, Regulatory stewardship, Business strategies, Ethical considerations over biological resources, Patenting of inventions relating to personalized medicine, Ethical parameters within patent law and Rights regarding genetic data and databases. The book includes observations, case studies and interviews conducted by the author. In conclusion, the author offers cogent recommendations for legal interoperability of IP rules and research practices designed to enhance the ability of biobanks to share access and reuse data. This book is the first of its kind to explore the organizational and legislative choices for biobanks.

particularly while engaging in the protection of research results and technology transfer within a publicly funded setting It will be of substantial interest to all stakeholders in biobanking especially policymakers biobankers and researchers working in the field of health law as well as for legal practitioners academics and patient interest groups Diverse Excursions in the Southeast: Paleozoic to Present Ann E.
