Joye,Ian Head,2015-05-15 Biodegradation mediated by indigenous microbial communities is the ultimate fate of the majority of oil hydrocarbon that enters the marine environment The aim of this Research Topic is to highlight recent advances in our knowledge of the pathways and controls of microbially catalyzed hydrocarbon degradation in marine ecosystems with emphasis on the response of microbial communities to the Deepwater Horizon oil spill in the Gulf of Mexico In this Research Topic we encouraged original research and reviews on the ecology of hydrocarbon degrading bacteria the rates and mechanisms of biodegradation and the bioremediation of discharged oil under situ as well as near in situ conditions

White Paper on Science and Technology ,2015 Rethinking Research Methods in an Age of Digital Journalism Michael Karlsson,Helle Sjøvaag,2018-10-18 The digital infrastructure of media production dissemination and consumption is becoming increasingly complex presenting the challenge of how we should research the digital journalism environment Digital journalism takes many forms we therefore need to revise improve adjust and even invent methods to understand emerging forms of journalism In this book scholars at the forefront of methodological innovations in digital journalism research share their insights on how to collect process and analyse the diverse expressions of digital journalism including online news search results hyperlinks and social media posts As digital journalism content often comes in the form of big data many of these new approaches depart from the traditional methods used in media research in significant ways As we move towards new ways of understanding digital journalism the methods developed for such purposes also need to be grounded in scientific rigour This book aims to share some of the emerging processes by which these methods tools and approaches are designed implemented and validated As such this book not only constitutes a benchmark for thinking about research methods in digital journalism it also provides an entry point for graduate students and seasoned scholars aiming to do research on digital journalism This book was originally published as a special issue of Digital Journalism Understanding West

Africas Ebola Epidemic Ibrahim Abdullah, Ismail Rashid, 2017-10-15 From 2013 to 2015 over 11 000 people across West Africa lost their lives to the deadliest outbreak of the Ebola virus in history Crucially this epidemic marked the first time the virus was able to spread beyond rural areas to major cities overturning conventional assumptions about its epidemiology With backgrounds ranging from development to disease control the contributors to this volume some of them based in countries affected by the Ebola epidemic consider the underlying factors that shaped this unprecedented outbreak While championing the heroic efforts of local communities and aid workers in halting the spread of the disease the contributors also reveal deep structural problems in both the countries and humanitarian agencies involved which hampered the efforts to contain the epidemic Alarming they show that little has been learned from these events with health provision remaining underfunded and poorly equipped to deal with future outbreaks Such issues they argue reflect the wider challenges we face in tackling epidemic disease in an increasingly interconnected world

Intellectual Property Issues in Life Sciences

Chetan Keswani, Cristina Possas, 2024-11-15 Intellectual Property Issues in Life Sciences Disputes and Controversies highlights emerging legal social and regulatory issues pertaining to various areas of life sciences Patents occupy a prominent position in the innovation systems in the life sciences but to what extent they support or hinder innovation is widely disputed Life science is a broad subject including agriculture ecology microbiology plant and animal sciences health and diseases biotechnology etc However despite the broad applications of biotechnology and molecular biology techniques profits on investments are surprisingly low Thus it is vitally important for universities public research organizations and private enterprises to protect their innovations There are vast differences of opinion on patentability of living organisms which are largely barred from patent protection However mind sets are rapidly shifting and IP issues in life sciences are receiving increasing attention To compete with progressive bio based economies the developing countries are amending their IP laws to encourage investment An effort has been made to avoid considering policy in isolation but rather to emphasize the interplay between the policy mix the wider institutional setting market forces and system organization solutions Both empirical and conceptual chapters are included to bring them together and to yield facts and interpretations for the readers This book presents expert opinions by frontier academicians researchers and attorneys on the recent challenges in the rapidly evolving life science industry The present book offers comprehensive knowledge on the contemporary issues in life sciences to a wide range of audiences including students scholars researchers legal practitioners policymakers and others interested in emerging intellectual property issues Features The only compilation available on the contemporary intellectual property issues in life sciences in the post COVID era Focuses on the commercial regulatory bioethical and socio legal implications of patents in life sciences Describes an integrated approach for sustained innovations in various areas of life sciences Discusses the recent IP controversies in a pan global context Presents viewpoints to front line practitioners viz attorneys researchers etc
