Life Science Grade Final Exam Paper 2013:

Using Multimodal Representations to Support Learning in the Science Classroom Brian Hand, Mark McDermott, Vaughan Prain, 2015-11-06 This book provides an international perspective of current work aimed at both clarifying the theoretical foundations for the use of multimodal representations as a part of effective science education pedagogy and the pragmatic application of research findings to actual classroom settings. Intended for a wide ranging audience from science education faculty members and researchers to classroom teachers, school administrators and curriculum developers, the studies reported in this book can inform best practices in K-12 classrooms of all science disciplines and provide models of how to improve science literacy for all students. Specific descriptions of classroom activities aimed at helping infuse the use of multimodal representations in classrooms are combined with discussion of the impact on student learning. Overarching findings from a synthesis of the various studies are presented to help assert appropriate pedagogical and instructional implications as well as to suggest further avenues of research.

Implementation of Large-Scale Education Assessments Petra Lietz, John C. Cresswell, Keith F. Rust, Raymond J. Adams, 2017-04-24 Presents a comprehensive treatment of issues related to the inception, design, implementation and reporting of large scale education assessments. In recent years many countries have decided to become involved in international educational assessments to allow them to ascertain the strengths and weaknesses of their student populations. Assessments such as the OECD's Programme for International Student Assessment (PISA), the IEA's Trends in Mathematics and Science Study (TIMSS) and Progress in International Reading Literacy Study (PIRLS) have provided opportunities for comparison between students of different countries on a common international scale. This book is designed to give researchers, policy makers and practitioners a well grounded knowledge in the design, implementation, analysis and reporting of international assessments. Readers will be able to gain a more detailed insight into the scientific principles employed in such studies, allowing them to make better use of the results. The book will also give readers an understanding of the resources needed to undertake and improve the design of educational assessments in their own countries and regions.

Implementation of Large Scale Education Assessments Brings together the editors' extensive experience in creating, designing, implementing, analysing and reporting results on a wide range of assessments. Emphasizes methods for implementing international studies of student achievement and obtaining high quality data from cognitive tests and contextual questionnaires. Discusses the methods of sampling, weighting and variance estimation that are commonly encountered in international large scale assessments. Provides direction and stimulus for improving global educational assessment and student learning. Is written by experts in the field with an international perspective. Survey researchers, market researchers and practitioners engaged in comparative projects will all benefit from the unparalleled breadth of knowledge and experience in large scale educational assessments gathered in this one volume.
