"Code of Massachusetts regulations, 2014", 2014 Archival snapshot of entire looseleaf Code of Massachusetts Regulations held by the Social Law Library of Massachusetts as of January 2020

Human Rights Literacies Cornelia Roux, Anne Becker, 2018-12-29 This book adds impetus to the nexus between human rights human rights education and material reality The dissonance between these aspects is of growing concern for most human rights educators in various social contexts The first part of the book opens up new discourses and presents new ontologies and epistemologies from scholars in human rights human rights education and human rights literacies to critique and or justify the understandings of human rights complex applications Today's rapidly changing social contexts and new languages attempting to understand ongoing dehumanization and violations put enormous pressure on higher education educators individuals working in social sciences policy makers and scholars engaged in curricula making The second part demonstrates how global interactions between citizens from different countries with diverse understandings of human rights from developed and developing democracies question the link between human rights and its exclusive Western philosophies Continuing inhumane actions around the globe reflect the failure of human rights law and human rights education in schools higher education and society at large The book shows that human rights education is no longer a blueprint for understanding human rights and its universal or contextual values presented for multicomplex societies The final chapters argue for new ontologies and epistemologies of human rights human rights education and human rights literacies to open up difficult conversations and to give space to dissonant and disruptive discourses The many opportunities for human rights education and literacies lies in these conversations

Transnational Narcotics Trafficking across Vietnam Borderland and Lao People's Democratic Republic Hai Thanh Luong, 2017-06-21 Doctoral Thesis Dissertation from the year 2017 in the subject Law Criminal process Criminology Law Enforcement grade A language English abstract Close proximity to the major production zones porous borderlands mountainous frontiers and long coastlines offer advantageous conditions for trafficking narcotics The illicit drug situation has become much more complex in Vietnam with the growth in amphetamine type stimulants production and trade Even so empirical research and analysis of the organization and operation of transnational narcotics trafficking TransNT remains limited The purpose of this thesis is to present the first detailed inquiry into the nature of TransNT across the border between Lao People s Democratic Republic PDR and Vietnam using an exploratory approach which draws upon qualitative and quantitative methods In particular the thesis presents findings from case studies of cross border trafficking between Vietnam and Lao PDR in the period of 2003 2013 combined with interview and survey data from criminal investigation police and drug related crimes officers CIPDRC from six border provinces who are directly and indirectly involved in investigating these cases The findings of this study indicate that drug markets in Vietnam are not controlled by monopolistic hierarchical organizations or cartels The structures of TransNT entities operating across the Lao Vietnam border are small based on family ties and fellow countrymen relations are fluid and loosely organized They are very adaptable and sophisticated with diverse modus operandi and multiple divisions of labour This presents particular challenges to law enforcement agencies LAEs This thesis questions to capacity of Vietnam s police to enforce the government s zero tolerance anti narcotics policy The study highlights practical problems and specific barriers in combating TransNT LEAs in Vietnam and Lao PDR operate without effective mechanisms to cooperate and share information It is also the case that traffickers often have more sophisticated equipment at their disposal to help them avoid arrest Police forces work within national structures and yet are faced with the task of combatting transnational crime This reality affects law enforcement capacity at a national as well as regional level but Association of the Southeast Asian Nations member states have yet to establish effective structures for dealing with this non traditional security challenge Based on these findings therefore the thesis proposes recommendations to enhancing the effectiveness of LEAs to combat TransNT between Vietnam and Lao PDR
