four year colleges that readers have come to expect Serving Library Users from Asia John Hickok, 2019-06-12 Asian populations are among some of the fastest growing cultural groups in the US While books on serving other target groups in libraries have been published e g disabled Latino seniors etc few books on serving library users of Asian heritage have been written Thus the timely need for this book Rather than a generalized overview of Asians as a whole this book has 24 separate chapters each on 24 specific Asian countries cultures of East Southeast and South Asia with a wealth of resources for understanding interacting with outreaching to and serving library users of each culture Resources include cultural guides both print and online language helps with sample library vocabulary Asian booksellers nationwide cultural groups professional literature and more Resources and suggestions are given for all three types of libraries public school and academic making this book valuable for all librarians The demographics of each Asian culture numbers and distribution plus history of immigration and international student enrollment is also featured As a bonus each chapter spotlights a US public school and academic library providing model outreach to Asian library users Additionally this book provides a detailed description and analysis of libraries in each of the 24 Asian countries The history development facilities conditions technology classification systems and more of public school and academic libraries are all discussed with detailed documentation Country conditions influencing libraries and library use are also described literacy levels reading cultures languages and writing systems educational systems and more Based on the author s 15 years of research and travels to Asia this work is a must have for all librarians A New Science of Suffering, the Wisdom of the Soul, and the New Behavioral Economics of Happiness: Towards a General Theory of Well-being Paul T. P Wong, Lok Sang Ho, Richard Gregory Cowden, Claude-Hélène Mayer, Fan Yang, 2023-10-24 New developments in positive psychology have evolved into the 2nd and 3rd waves going beyond the individual and positive focus towards complex systems multi cultures and the existential positive psychology of transcending suffering The present project aims at developing a general theory of well being that integrates all the above changes as the new frontier of positive psychology At a time when humanity is threatened by all kinds of existential crises from climate change to nuclear war from ideological polarization to a widening income gap we need to develop a big picture theoretical framework showing that happiness is not just for those living in peace and prosperity but also for those struggling in dire poverty and war ravaged countries like Ukraine not just for the self but also for others not just for the present but also for future generations This broader approach towards wellbeing opens up new vistas for research and interventions Research on Emotion and Learning: Contributions from Latin America Camilo Hurtado-Parrado, Carlos Gantiva, Leonardo A. Ortega, Alexander Gómez-A, Lucas Cuenya, Javier Leonardo Rico, 2020-05-11 Latin America has increased its share of world scientific publications by nearly twofold during the last two decades approximately from 2 to 4% Despite this positive trend the scholarly impact of scientific research produced in the region measured in terms of citation rate remains low Two interrelated factors that contribute to this situation is that most research groups tend to work in isolation or in local sporadic collaboration and results are often published in journals that are not indexed in major citation databases e.g. SCOPUS or Web of Science. Ultimately part of Latin American high quality research seems to remain hidden from the rest of the world. Over the last decades an important number of Latin American scientists have developed fruitful research agendas on questions on learning and emotion focusing on basic and or translational research with humans and other animal models and implementing diverse methodologies. Notwithstanding the important contributions of these research programs Latin American research on emotion and learning has followed the overall trend of other research fields throughout the region namely remaining partially hidden from the large scientific community of the world. This Research Topic aimed to engage researchers from Latin America to share their empirical and conceptual work on learning and emotion. Ultimately this effort was expected to strengthen and integrate our regional community of experts enhance global networking and establish new challenges and developments for future investigation.

Individual's Mechanics, Movement and Kinematics Post-Stroke Yih-Kuen Jan, Veronica Cimolin, 2024-06-12 Disability after stroke is a major burden on society due to its high incidence and prevalence. Among the priorities of rehabilitation programs stroke rehabilitation aims to regain independence and improve patients quality of life. Dynamic balance falls prevention and upper limb recovery are essential features for the clinical management of hemiparetic patients. To optimize movement recovery after stroke it is essential to select multilevel outcome measures for interpretation of motor recovery and clinical decision making. In this context the assessment of movement by means of quantitative movement analysis in hemiparetic post stroke patients is key to planning rehabilitative intervention. Kinematic analysis facilitates interpreting the extent and mechanisms of motor restoration and it has been increasingly applied in neurological research.
