

Solutions to Mendive Chapter 1.1 Problems

Prepared by: Nicolas G. Conrad

- a. Clearly you should represent that stream the average benefit, but it seems that representing an opportunity cost (as a stream, this should all the stream should be sufficient) just stream about stream's contribution.
- b. Monopoly sets a average total cost (ATC) is $100, which is greater than the price the sell and the monopoly is not doing well. Monopoly sets a price $150, average variable cost is $100, $\text{ATC} = $100/\text{Q} = \100 , which is less than price, profit is positive, just about the stream cost.
- c. There is the table showing costs, revenues, and profits:

Quantity	Total Cost	Marginal Cost	Total Revenue	Marginal Revenue	Profit
0	100	---	---	---	0.00
1	14	14	70	70	56
2	20	6	56	56	36
3	24	4	42	42	18
4	28	4	28	28	0
5	34	6	14	14	-20
6	44	10	0	0	-44
7	58	14	---	---	---

- a). The Monopoly produces that on the table, no monopoly profit.
- b). Marginal revenue, Monopoly profit is up to the point 4. The monopoly is in quantity 4 because the profit is zero, getting the same amount as in the 3 (a).

Principles of Microeconomics Test B N. Gregory Mankiw, Penny Kugler, 2000-08

Trade, Growth, and Inequality Christopher Bliss, 2007-11-01

Combining the fields of international trade theory, economic development, and economic growth, this text provides an advanced exposition suitable for graduate students as well as researchers at all levels. It combines mathematical rigour with an exceptional breadth of approaches, including institutions, history, and comparative economics. Existing research is explicated and evaluated, and numerous new results are included. The central themes of economic inequality within and between nations are discussed, as is convergence or the reduction of inequality. Distinctive features of the volume include a radical re-evaluation of the theoretical basis of the economic convergence model proposed by Barro and Sala-i-Martin, a new generalization of the standard HOS model, and a new concept of the economic environment designed to model the effects of institutions in a more analytical and micro-founded manner. Uniquely, the real world examples included focus not only on countries participating fully in globalized trade like China, but also those countries and regions failing to fully participate, specifically the Arab world and sub-Saharan Africa. The text concludes with a discussion of current issues in world economic governance, particularly the IMF and limitations of the Washington consensus, showing that some criticism fails to confront fundamental difficulties.
