Labour Law in an Era of Globalization Joanne Conaghan, Richard Michael Fischl, Karl Klare, 2004 Throughout the industrial world the discipline of labor law has fallen into deep philosophical and policy crisis at the same time as new theoretical approaches make it a field of considerable intellectual ferment Modern labor law evolved in a symbiotic relationship with a postwar institutional and policy agenda the social economic and political underpinnings of which have gradually eroded in the context of accelerating international economic integration and wage competition These essays which are the product of a transnational comparative dialog among academics and practitioners in labor law and related legal fields including social security immigration trade and development identify analyze and respond to some of the conceptual and policy challenges posed by globalization African Studies Association Annual Meeting.
