Ivory,2013-06-29 Among all information systems that are nowadays available web sites are definitely the ones having the widest potential audience and the most significant impact on the everyday life of people Web sites contribute largely to the information society they provide visitors with a large array of services and information and allow them to perform various tasks without prior assumptions about their computer literacy Web sites are assumed to be accessible and usable to the widest possible audience Consequently usability has been recognized as a critical success factor for web sites of every kind Beyond this universal recognition usability still remains a notion that is hard to grasp Summative evaluation methods have been introduced to identify potential usability problems to assess the quality of web sites However summative evaluation remains limited in impact as it does not necessarily deliver constructive comments to web site designers and developers on how to solve the usability problems Formative evaluation methods have been introduced to address this issue Evaluation remains a process that is hard to drive and perform while its potential impact is probably maximal for the benefit of the final user This complexity is exacerbated when web sites are very large potentially up to several hundreds of thousands of pages thus leading to a situation where eval uating the web site is almost impossible to conduct manually Therefore many attempts have been made to support evaluation with Models that capture some characteristics of the web site of interest Comparative Evaluation of Multilingual Information Access Systems Julio Gonzalo,Martin Braschler,Michael Kluck,2004-11-16 The fourth campaign of the Cross language Evaluation Forum CLEF for European languages was held from January to August 2003 Participation in this campaign showed a slight rise in the number of participants from the previous year with 42 groups submitting results for one or more of the different tracks compared with 37 in 2002 but a steep rise in the number of experiments attempted A distinctive feature of CLEF 2003 was the number of new tracks and tasks that were offered as pilot experiments The aim was to try out new ideas and to encourage the development of new evaluation methodologies suited to the emerging requirements of both system developers and users with respect to today's digital collections and to encourage work on many European languages rather than just those most widely used CLEF is thus gradually pushing its participants towards the ultimate goal the development of truly multilingual systems capable of processing collections in diverse media The campaign culminated in a two day workshop held in Trondheim Norway 21-22 August immediately following the 7th European Conference on Digital Libraries ECDL 2003 and attended by more than 70 researchers and system developers The objective of the workshop was to bring together the groups that had participated in the CLEF 2003 campaign so that they could report on the results of their experiments
