Grauer,1999-06 Taste and Healthy Eating in the Context of Well-being, Sustainability and 21st Century Food Science Hisayuki Uneyama,Ken Iwatsuki,Nobuyuki Sakai, Keiko Yasumatsu,2025-04-24 In the Anthropocene the global food system affects the geosystem and its biosphere and thus it is important for us to reconsider our eating style s and develop new and sustainable food systems This is particularly crucial since we are facing the risk of morbidity and mortality result from unhealthy diets In 2019 the EAT Lancet commission offered a new food standard that gratifies both health and environmental sustainability calling it the planetary health diet It is necessary for us to understand the sensory characteristics of the planetary health diet and how we humans select consume and develop foods and beverages to satisfy the standards of this new dietary approach These understandings add more fuel to promote the achievements of Sustainable Development Goals and of the planetary health diet This Research Topic aims to reveal the neural and biological mechanisms underlying the perception and selection of the planetary health diet Currently we have only little knowledge about taste and flavor perception so we do not know what sensory characteristics of foods are liked Also we do not know the mechanisms involved in selecting certain foods For example we know that excessive salt intake induces hypertension and or obesity but often we do not select low salt foods even when suffering from the high blood pressure We also know that animal models e g mice rats consume more of diets that impart a good taste for them As humans however we do not always eat so much of foods that may taste good for us and may consume foods or beverages that are not so enjoyable for us Thus a multidisciplinary approach is needed to challenge these topics

Solosky,2002 Canadian Journal of Experimental Psychology ,1996 Thomas Reid on Logic, Rhetoric, and the Fine Arts Thomas Reid,2005 Thomas Reid saw the three subjects of logic rhetoric and the fine arts as closely cohering aspects of one endeavor that he called the culture of the mind This was a topic on which Reid lectured for many years in Glasgow and this volume presents as near a reconstruction of these lectures as is now possible Though virtually unknown today this material in fact relates closely to Reid s published works and in particular to the late Essays on the Intellectual Powers of Man and Essays on the Active Powers of Man When composing these works Reid drew primarily on his lectures on pneumatology which presented a theory of the mental powers broadly conceived These lectures were basic to the course on the culture of the mind that explained the cultivation of the mental powers Although the Essays also included some elements from the material on the culture of the mind the bulk of the latter was left in manuscript form and Alexander Broadie s edition restores this important extension of Reid s overall work In addition this volume continues the attractive combination of manuscript material and published work in this case Reid s important and well known essay on Aristotle s logic This text was corrupted in earlier editions of Reid s works and is now restored to the state in which Reid left it This volume underscores Reid s great and growing significance viewed both as a historical figure and as a philosopher At the same time it is of great interdisciplinary importance While the material emerges directly from the core of Reid s philosophy as now understood it will appeal widely to people in literary cultural historical and communications studies In this regard the present volume is a true fruit of the Scottish Enlightenment
