Irish Times Reviews:

Reviews and Essays of Austin Clarke Austin Clarke, 1995 Austin Clarke is widely regarded as one of 20th century Ireland's most important poets. In this selection of nearly fifty essays and reviews written over Clarke's long career, he demonstrates that he is an astute and provocative literary critic as well. Having grown up in Dublin when the excitement of the Irish Literary Revival was still running high, Clarke knew many of the principal figures of that movement personally and his readings of Yeats, Joyce, Synge, O'Casey, Lady Gregory, George Moore and others enjoy the advantages of an insider's point of view. Moreover, committed in his own poetry to the basic assumption that fuelled the Literary Revival, that the most productive course for Irish literature lay in the direction not of England but of Ireland, Clarke in his criticism provides a way of understanding and judging the Revival's major writers in terms of their relationships to Ireland's rich literary and cultural traditions. At the same time, these essays call attention to a number of distinctly Irish but often overlooked writers working on the margins of the revival. As Yeats observed more than once, the Irish, for all the contributions that they have made to modern fiction, poetry and drama, have fallen somewhat short in the genre of literary criticism. Austin Clarke's essays and reviews, many of which were written under a pseudonym and so not attributed to Clarke, for years go a long way towards filling that gap.

Digest; Review of Reviews Incorporating Literary Digest, 1897 The Financial Review of Reviews, 1908 Irish Theatre in the Twenty-first Century Nicholas Grene, 2024 Irish Theatre in the Twenty First Century is the first in-depth study of the subject. It analyses the ways in which theatre in Ireland has developed since the 1990s with emerging playwrights Martin McDonagh, Conor McPherson and Enda Walsh. Companies such as Blue Raincoat, the Corn Exchange and Pan Pan pioneered an avant-garde dramaturgy. This led to new styles of production of classic Irish works including the plays of Synge mounted by Druid. There was a re-imagining of past Irish history in the work of Rough Magic and ANU plays by Owen McCafferty, Stacey Gregg and David Ireland dramatized the legacy of the Troubles and adaptations of Greek tragedy by Marina Carr and others reflecting the conditions of modern Ireland. From 2015 the movement Waking the Feminists led to a sharpened awareness of gender. While male playwrights showed a toxic masculinity on the stage, a generation of female dramatists including Carr, Gregg and Nancy Harris gave voice to the long-suppressed experiences of women. For three separate periods, 2006, 2016 and 2020, the author served as one of the judges for the Irish Times Irish Theatre Awards, attending all new productions across the island of Ireland. This allowed him to provide the overviews of the state of play of Irish theatre in each of those times which punctuate the book. Drawing also on interviews with Ireland's leading theatre makers, Grene provides readers with a close-up understanding of Irish theatre in a period when Ireland became for the first time a fully modernized, secular and multi-ethnic society.
