In order to supply supplemental fuel when starting the engine, by turning the starter switch ON, current ① is sent directly from the battery and passes through the de-compression control unit and is reached the fuel pump relay. Fuel pump relay controls operation of the fuel pump.

As shown in Figure 1, the results of the regression analysis are as follows:

The current ① generated at No. 2 ignition coil (front cylinder) flows to the fuel pump relay's control circuit. The control circuit receives this current ① and send signal ② to the SCR, turning it ON. When the SCR turns ON, current ③ is sent from the battery through the fuel pump relay, thus operating the fuel pump. For safety purposes the fuel pump stops automatically when the engine stops producing ignition spark, and the signal from the ignition coil is not sent.
