Men and Mothers Hendrika C. Freud,2018-03-08 Not all men vie with their fathers for the love of their mothers In some families the mother becomes the central figure for her son the father is excluded or excludes himself and does not come between mother and son The main thesis of this book using clinical vignettes and quotes from the work of Marcel Proust to illustrate the author s points is that in these cases fantasies of matricide replace patricide Men develop their male gender identity by being permitted to separate from their mother early on but when a man does not resolve his infantile tie to his mother he risks remaining in a passive and or dependent position towards her Over identification with the mother might ensue hampering masculine development Mothers who seek emotional support by binding their sons too closely can become seductive towards them The child is inclined to try to satisfy the emotional needs of his mother and he fears rejection if he asserts his independence instead of complying
