

PRAYER FOR GRADUATES

LET ME BE A BLESSING

Thank You, Lord, for Your guidance and grace through my years on campus. I'm thankful to You for taking care of me in school. I'm thankful that

I've been able to complete my course successfully. I'm thankful that today, I'm a graduate. Thank You so much, Lord. Thank You for Your protection for all my days on campus.

I pray for more protection as I approach the world as a graduate. Please teach me to number my days and protect me in all my ways. I pray that You please continue blessing me with good health both physically and mentally. Take away any ailments and weakness from me Lord. As I approach the world today, I pray for You to lead me on this journey. Lord, order my steps and make everything work out for my good. Let me be a blessing to everyone that I encounter. Let me be a blessing to the world in Jesus' name,

Amen

Jonathan B. Imber, 2008-08-25 For more than a century the American medical profession insisted that doctors be rigorously trained in medical science and dedicated to professional ethics Patients revered their doctors as representatives of a sacred vocation Do we still trust doctors with the same conviction In Trusting Doctors Jonathan Imber attributes the development of patients faith in doctors to the inspiration and influence of Protestant and Catholic clergymen during the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries He explains that as the influence of clergymen waned and as reliance on medical technology increased patients trust in doctors steadily declined Trusting Doctors discusses the emphasis that Protestant clergymen placed on the physician's vocation the focus that Catholic moralists put on specific dilemmas faced in daily medical practice and the loss of unchallenged authority experienced by doctors after World War II when practitioners became valued for their technical competence rather than their personal integrity Imber shows how the clergy gradually lost their impact in defining the physician's moral character and how vocal critics of medicine contributed to a decline in patient confidence The author argues that as modern medicine becomes defined by specialization rapid medical advance profit driven industry and ever
