

Marshall & Swift® Valuation Service

A Complete Guide to Commercial Building Costs

As published in 1992, the flagship Marshall & Swift valuation service cost manual, CoreLogic is a complete and authoritative source for the prevailing replacement costs and depreciation values of commercial building construction.

Representing more than 20,000 commercial construction items, this building, equipment and other manual is the go-to commercial building and equipment valuation benchmark throughout the United States. It is referenced by CPAs and other valuation professionals around the world.

The Core Screenshot of Building Construction

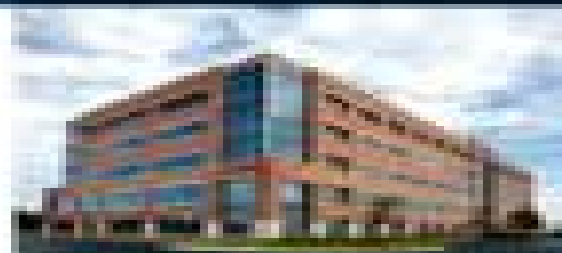

As a building more than 40 years old, experience Marshall & Swift building valuation with the 2014 manual, which includes the most current and complete building cost information and performance characteristics of today's construction.

- Space Cost Methodology: Precise, consistently used subcomponent-based valuation method used to derive gross square footage valuations by location.
- Integrated Methodology: Used consistently by appraisers, cost of replacement can be built as Foundation, Frame, Exterior, Interior, etc.
- Component-based: Individual priced components such as windows, doors, roofs, and landscaping, etc.

With the most current building methodology, regularly updated cost data, and historic trends in values, the Marshall & Swift building construction manual is the go-to source for building valuation.
