

Safe Manual Handling

INTRODUCTION

LEGISLATION

More than a 1/3 of workers reported in the Health and Safety Executive's first National Survey on Manual Handling and Musculoskeletal Disorders are likely to be injured over the next 5 years. The Department of Health's new research shows that musculoskeletal injury is one of the most common occupational health problems. It affects a significant number of workers in the number of accidents experienced from these conditions.

TYPES OF INJURY

The back is a series of vertebrae with a disc separating each vertebra. These discs separate and support the spine. When a sustained movement is done, you place a constant force on the spine.

The types of injury that occur are:

1. Strains, both immediate and those that occur over time due to repeated movements.
2. Sprains, both acute and chronic, and also related to the spine.

Anywhere in the musculoskeletal system can be injured.

EMPLOYERS & EMPLOYEES

EMPLOYERS DUTIES

Employers should:

1. Assess the risk of injury with all manual handling operations involving the workplace.
2. Plan to prevent a safe system of work.
3. Assess the need to avoid handling or to use mechanical aids.
4. Assess the need to use mechanical aids.
5. Provide information and training.
6. To ensure any manual handling is done in a safe manner.

PREVENTING BACK PAIN

As well as the procedures above there are actions that you can take to help prevent back pain (HSE 2001).

1. Keep your weight under control, being fit and healthy.
2. Try to maintain a good posture during all activities, e.g. working, sitting, and driving.
3. Stretch and warm up before work.
4. Avoid static long and shallow postures, such as sitting in a chair for long periods.
5. If you get back pain, stop any activity immediately and seek advice. Seek advice from your GP or a physiotherapist.

It is also important to get advice about the correct lifting and moving techniques.

RISK ASSESSMENT

The purpose of a risk assessment is to:

1. Identify the hazards present by looking at the Task, Individual, Load and the Environment. Ask to identify who may be harmed by the activity, to look at the existing controls and to identify if further improvements are necessary.

1. Qualified in the Assessment of Health and Safety at Work (Assessment of Health and Safety at Work) or have a relevant qualification.
