Why Borders Matter Frank Furedi, 2020-05-13 Western society has become estranged from the borders and social boundaries that have for centuries given meaning to human experience This book argues that the controversy surrounding mass migration and physical borders runs in parallel and is closely connected to the debates surrounding the symbolic boundaries people need to guide on the issues of everyday life Numerous commentators claim that borders have become irrelevant in the age of mass migration and globalisation Some go so far as to argue for No Borders And it is not merely the boundaries that divide nations that are under attack The traditional boundaries that separate adults from children or men from women or humans from animals or citizens and non citizens or the private from the public sphere are often condemned as arbitrary unnatural and even unjust Paradoxically the attempt to alter or abolish conventional boundaries coexists with the imperative of constructing new ones No Border campaigners call for safe spaces Opponents of cultural appropriation demand the policing of language and advocates of identity politics are busy building boundaries to keep out would be encroachers on their identity Furedi argues that the key driver of the confusion surrounding borders and boundaries is the difficulty that society has in endowing experience with meaning The most striking symptom of this trend is the cultural devaluation of the act of judgment which has led to a loss of clarity about the moral boundaries in everyday life The infantilisation of adults that runs in tandem with the adultification of children offers a striking example of the consequence of non judgmentalism Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars in cultural sociology sociology of knowledge philosophy political theory and cultural studies

The Elementary English Review ,1926 Elementary English Review ,1926 SCC library has 1949 cur Well-Dressed Role Models Gale Eaton,2006-06-08 This study provides a qualitative exploration of juvenile biographies of women a genre defined here as a book dealing with the whole or partial life of an individual and reviewed as nonfiction for readers in elementary middle or junior high school Beginning with a survey of juvenile material on Elizabeth Tudor published in England and the United States between 1852 and 2002 author Gale Eaton scrutinizes thirty four books juvenile biographies histories and collected biographies for trends in both content and rhetoric Well Dressed Role Models The Portrayal of Women in Biographies for Children then goes on to look at close readings of books published in the United States in the years 1946 1971 and 1996 and presents a penetrating analysis of a genre that serves the needs of youth The findings of this study include the fact that juvenile biographies make role models out of women who in many cases never would have become famous by following all the rules for good girls By choice of subject and emphasis their authors dress the life stories of real women in the appropriate values of new generations Three appendixes providing annotated book lists for each of the three years analyzed conclude this study Writing for Immortality Anne E. Boyd,2010-01-01 Before the Civil War American writers such as Catharine Maria Sedgwick and Harriet Beecher Stowe had established authorship as a respectable profession for women But though they had written some of the most popular and influential novels of the century they accepted the taboo against female writers regarding themselves as educators and businesswomen During and after the Civil War some women writers began to challenge this view seeing themselves as artists writing for themselves and for posterity Writing for Immortality studies the lives and works of four prominent members of the first generation of American women who strived for recognition as serious literary artists Louisa May Alcott Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Elizabeth Stoddard and Constance Fenimore Woolson Combining literary criticism and cultural history Anne E Boyd examines how these authors negotiated the masculine connotation of artist imagining a space for themselves in the literary pantheon Redrawing the boundaries between male and female literary spheres and between American and British literary traditions Boyd shows how these writers rejected the didacticism of the previous generation of women writers and instead drew their inspiration from the most prominent literary writers of their day Emerson James Barrett Browning and Eliot Placing the works and experiences of Alcott Phelps Stoddard and Woolson within contemporary discussions about genius and the American artist Boyd reaches a sobering conclusion Although these women were encouraged by the democratic ideals implicit in such concepts they were equally discouraged by lingering prejudices about their applicability to women The Athenaeum ,1890 The Athenaeum James Silk Buckingham,John Sterling,Frederick Denison Maurice,Henry Stebbing,Charles Wentworth Dilke,Thomas Kibble Hervey,William Hepworth Dixon,Norman Maccoll,Vernon Horace Rendall,John Middleton Murry,1890 individual writers where they stand even in a destabilised sense of that idea. Such substantive accounts of the inner academic life provide appropriate and rich contexts for further study and analysis. With this volume then these scholars move us to explore the intersections of the social with subjectivity with voice ideology and culture and to consider the roles of these in the work of academics who study writing and literature. Taken together the essays in this collection carry forward the idea that the personal the candidly subjective and inter subjective must be part of the subject of study in humanities scholarship. They propose an understanding of the personal in scholarship that is more helpful because more clearly anchored in human experience.
