Land Degradation in India Ratan Priya, 2021-03-19 This book discusses land degradation in India using statistical tools such as Principal Component Analysis PCA and Regression Analysis RA and uses statistical analyses and graphical representations of the causal relationship between land degradation and land productivity to determine linkages with deforestation climate change and agricultural productivity While most studies of land degradation in India focus on economic outcomes and physical processes at macro and micro levels this study addresses land degradation at the meso level to fill in this gap and provide up to date information on often overlooked factors associated with land degradation issues using the latest available data Districts in the study were selected by land degradation intensity forming an index of the severity of land degradation in the area with a focus on gullied lands soil salinity alkalinity and open and dense scrubs as indicators Though the study areas are in India researchers policy makers and students around the world will be able to learn from these inputs regarding land degradation to address various challenges associated with sustainable land management and agricultural productivity

Soil Security for Ecosystem Management Selim Kapur, Sabit Erşahin, 2013-08-27 The term Soil Security is used in the context of maintaining the quality and quantity of soil needed in order to ensure continuous supplies of food and fresh water for our society Topics in this unique book on the management of soil sustainability in the Mediterranean region include soil information land degradation land desertification pedoenvironments and the carbon cycle and sequestration One main focus of the book is the description of new approaches that have been adapted with regards to interdisciplinary soil ecosystem management to combat and mitigate desertification The contributing authors are renowned experts in their fields which cover the subjects on traditional as well as innovative land use and management

Developments in Soil Classification, Land Use Planning and Policy Implications Shabbir A. Shahid, Faisal K. Taha, Mahmoud A. Abdelfattah, 2013-02-15 As the world's population continues to expand maintaining and indeed increasing agricultural productivity is more important than ever though it is also more difficult than ever in the face of changing weather patterns that in some cases are leading to aridity and desertification The absence of scientific soil inventories especially in arid areas leads to mistaken decisions about soil use that in the end reduce a region's capacity to feed its population or to guarantee a clean water supply Greater efficiency in soil use is possible when these resources are properly classified using international standards Focusing on arid regions this volume details soil classification from many countries It is only once this information is properly assimilated by policymakers it becomes a foundation for informed decisions in land use planning for rational and sustainable uses
