Sonnet,2009-08-19 Improving the performance of youth on the labour market is a crucial challenge in OECD countries facing persistent youth unemployment As labour markets become more and more selective a lack of relevant skills brings a higher risk of unemployment Whatever the level of qualification first experiences on the labour market have a profound influence on later working life Getting off to a good start facilitates integration and lays the foundation for a good career while a failure can be difficult to make up Ensuring a good start will require co ordinated policies to bring the education system closer to the labour market to help disadvantaged young people to find a job or participate in a training course and to facilitate the hiring of young people by firms OECD has launched a series of reports on the school to work transition process in sixteen countries including France Each report contains a survey of the main barriers to employment for young people an assessment of the adequacy and effectiveness of existing measures to improve the transition from school to work and a set of policy recommendations for further action by the public authorities and social partners This report is based on the proceedings of a seminar and is published in both English and French The Summary and Recommendations at the beginning
