Figure 1

(i) Suggest an enquiry question or hypothesis that the students might have proposed for their investigation.

(10)

How ~~are~~ effective is coastal management in protecting the coastline from erosion?

The first part of this response is unclear although there is a basic idea of 'trouble to drive there', which could be developed to make the point clear and garner a second mark for the point. The second part of this response is explicit about the rocks and the subsequent risks involved. 3 marks.

Do not leave things unexplained by using vague terms such as 'difficult' or 'trouble' - why might it be 'difficult'?

(ii) Explain how the use of Ordnance Survey (OS) maps might have helped the students choose their two beach locations and the three sites on each of those beaches to carry out the profiles.

(10)

OS map also you to see the point where beach and is about you to answer it is a beach where there is a water point in but you can get a small beach gradient and inland like gradient. It also show you to find if any town if there is not it is a beach. It had you as the to answer the beach gradient. The OS map also show you to take the note and beach location is to see if you there the to answer the gradient using lines. You can also see location that beach where steep to find you as the to get a beach which has a low beach gradient.

(iii) Suggest two problems that the students' choice of locations may have caused for their collection.

(10)

1. As they were walking along the beach south of location A is a lot more built up than location B meaning there may be more people and a lot of noise.
2. Location B seems to be a bit more difficult to get to as there is a rocky coastline which looks dangerous. Like A looks a bit easier to get to as it is more of a flat area.

(10)

There is obviously some familiarity with OS maps and several points are made, although some of them especially clearly. The answer is rather spelt by the persistent references to when when, certainly in some cases, pupils probably intended to say some. As with many candidates, the distinction between site and location is not made clear in this
