The investigator will identify the problem and then will determine the scope of the investigation. The investigator will then determine the objectives of the investigation and will then determine the methods of the investigation. The investigator will then determine the results of the investigation and will then determine the conclusions of the investigation. 1. The first step in the process of creating a new product is to identify a market need. This involves conducting market research to determine what consumers want and what problems they are trying to solve.

2. Once a market need has been identified, the next step is to develop a concept for a product that addresses that need. This involves brainstorming ideas and selecting the most promising one.

3. The third step is to create a prototype of the product. This allows the designer to test the product's functionality and make any necessary adjustments.

4. After the prototype has been tested, the next step is to develop a business plan. This involves determining the costs of production, the pricing strategy, and the marketing plan.

5. The final step is to launch the product into the market. This involves manufacturing the product, distributing it, and promoting it to consumers.
