Medical Bloopers Daytoday Calendar:

Medical Bloopers 2017 Day-To-Day Calendar Andrews McMeel Publishing, 2016 Medical Bloopers Accord Publishing, 2010 2018 Medical Calendar Journal Edward Smith, 2017-09-15 A calendar unlike no other calendar that you ve ever seen before Yes it still keeps you aware of the days date and the month but this calendar offers so so so much more You ve got to see it to believe it demonstration video on YouTube search for the title 2020 Medical Calendar Journal Edward J. Smith, 2019-10-13 Why are we here Unlike your computer where your personal information can be hacked or shared here your information is stored in your own personal Medical Calendar Journal where only you have control For medical purposes we re here to explain the importance of this product for saving your life So what you re viewing started out as a regular calendar redesigned for use as a journal Personally its creator needed a secure place for storing his own medical records along with other information s A secure place whereas he could reach back to any year month date or time and retrieve any of his recorded information whenever needed Somewhere to store every hospital visit doctor s name appointment or ache that d pained him We re speaking of Edward J Smith as he s the creator of this yearly Medical Calendar Journal First we thank you for offering your time with this visit Our thoughts are with you and our hopes are that this product does for you what the calendars before it has helped others with This year s design is the eighth in its group reaching back to 2013 It d been on a night back in 2007 that its creator needed emergency services Upon arrival paramedics found themselves kicking in his door to gain entry into his home Once inside they d found Mr Smith straddled across his basements floor unable to get up by himself or even call for help And what was worst was that he d been prescribed thirteen different medications When paramedics asked was he taking medications because of seizures Mr Smith couldn t respond But eventually he d been taken to a hospital where he d stayed for nearly a week It was during these times back in 2007 that his dreams of wanting some way of storing his own medical records had started taking shape as one idea was leading to others It d taken Mr Smith six years before finally turning his first calendar into a medical journal and proving his dreams was achievable Since then because his creation had worked so well for his own medical purposes it d allowed the name and copyrights to form along with the product Now every New Year brings Mr Smith stumbling with excitement while getting his next calendars out to market And just in case emergency personnel or a sudden visit to a hospital needs this information the names of the owner s medications are stored inside Record every time you take a pill and which pills are taken Your daily weight hospital visits doctor s names and visits appointment dates and times aches surgery etc Everything about your medical life is viewed as needing recording for future purposes and this Medical Calendar Journal is not a computer So upon recognizing what he d created Mr Smith realized the many ways his calendar had helped him When home he keeps his medical information within sight of emergency personnel in case it s needed For sudden trips to hospitals or appointments with his doctors his records are always alongside him And usually something s always happened that his doctor s should know about so whenever needed he's able to look back to view his saved records. It was on a day that Mr. Smith was visiting with his own doctor that his selfish way of thinking opened up to lead him down this path. He'd been sitting and preparing questions to ask his doctor concerning problems that he'd recorded. At that point it'd occurred to him how well his own personal Medical Calendar Journals had been helping him in such unimaginable ways. How many others can use this method of record keeping in their lives he'd thought. So speaking as someone who's experiencing their own medical problems on a daily basis, Mr. Smith had not just created this method of record keeping but he's designed this yearly calendar from his own experiences. So if there's anyone in your life who you feel could use this product then it'll work wonders for them too. Med Student At Your Cervix - Undated Daily Planner BuJo Heaven, 2019-09-18. Smith, 2012-12-01. Makes a great gift for any occasion. This 400 page calendar is designed as a journal with each page representing a full day for keeping daily records on health issues. It allows a patient to have their doctor dentist and emergency contact information on hand in cases of emergencies. If a patient's doctor's need information on issues the patient's mentioned to them this journal allows that patient the ability to go directly to the recorded page's date explaining the issue in detail. It has lines for the patient to list medications on as right beside the medication's name's are time slots. These time slots are for recording the patient's medication intake which helps the patient by preventing their missing taking their medications. Also by the patient's showing their journal to their doctor's on visits it helps reassure their doctor's their medications are being taken as prescribed on timely bases. So from day to day week to week month to month and year by year a patient should keep a recorded record that can always be depended upon when needed. Each year's journal can be stored on a bookshelf for safe keeping and easy access. Just what the doctor ordered.
