On the Question of Truth in the Era of Trump ,2020-04-28 Using a range of critical perspectives On the Question of Truth in the Era of Trump closely examines notions of truth in crisis leading up to and after the election of Donald Trump The authors explore how truth is constructed along the lines of race social class and gender as filtered through the self referential characteristics of social media in particular The authors assert that the US left has shown itself inadequate to the task of confronting right wing ideologies which have only intensified since the 2016 election resulting in increased mobilization of white supremacist and nationalist groups Whether underestimating Trump by downplaying the threat of his candidacy during the primaries trivializing the concerns of women and minorities as identity politics or rushing to prioritize the free speech rights of the far right left academics and the media have found themselves unable to use their traditional arsenal of evidence rational discourse and appeals to diversity of viewpoints The authors assert that political resistance to the right is not a matter of playful use of signs and symbols or discourse alone and has to be fought directly and in solidarity At this point it is clear that Trump and his supporters have not just deployed relativism as a form of strategy but have fully weaponized it against their perceived enemies women immigrants minorities LGBTQ people along with educational scientific and journalistic institutions It is hoped that this in depth critical dissection of truth in the current political reality will assist in the project of resistance Contributors are Faith Agostinone Wilson Mike Cole Jeremy T Godwin Jones Irwin Austin Pickup Daniel Ian Rubin and Eric C Sheffield Arts-Based Research Methods in Writing Studies Kate Hanzalik,2021-02-09 As the arts become an increasingly popular pedagogical tool in writing studies Arts Based Research Methods in Writing Studies offers scholars and educators in the field ways to leverage the arts for their own scholarship through the practice of arts based research ABR Tailored to the needs of writing studies scholars this concise guide presents ways of exploring and addressing unresolved research questions from the past as well as new pressing questions that are emerging in light of increasingly fraught and complicated current contexts It explores motives and methods for taking up ABR sheds light on the processes of representing research and the ethical imperative of methodological disclosure and looks critically at the complexities of fully realizing ABR in writing studies while offering some pedagogical applications Connecting theory to practice this book also performs ABR through a co created mixed media text about the everyday and extraordinary stories woven into the fabric of new American artists composing processes Arts Based Research Methods in Writing Studies lends itself to insight that is at once personal for writing studies researchers useful for research communities and a catalyst for social change beyond institutional walls as such it will be an important resource for scholars educators and graduate students in writing studies and those interested in multimodal multilingual and translingual learning equitable pedagogies and administrative practices online writing instruction transnational literacies research methods community based research and disability studies in composition American Novelists, 1910-1945 James J.
