Introduction:

During previous students practical experience with the Newtonian gravity. For now, this experiment is limited to the conditions required to study large objects, the stars, and much smaller objects that are very close to it. This is a large number range of calculations. Students calculate the gravity of the primary components of the system of stars (galaxies) and secondary components. This lab contains the calculations "Stellar Dynamics" developed by the Physics Education Technology (PET) group at the University of Colorado at Boulder. From 2014, at <http://phet.colorado.edu/en/program-title/stellar-dynamics>.

The simulation shows multiple components under the influence of gravity on 2D (the central gravitational potential) and is available in the system of gravity for this simulation that value of G can be chosen as 1 or 1000, another units divided for the appropriate calculations. For simplicity run left value for the first part as is the same as the other units could be converted, but that units of the simulation do not satisfy the conditions.

Procedure:

On the "Stellar Dynamics" simulation on the PET website, and carefully follow the instructions. Select the main features, observe the operations, and record your results before going on to the next activity.

Activity 1: Check familiar with the simulation

Look at the star's system. The simulation controls and settings are on the right, and the simulation appears on the left.

- 1. Click on the star's system and the controls and settings are on the right. The position of the objects in simulation are displayed on the right-hand side.
- 2. Click on the controls and settings on the right-hand side. The controls and settings are displayed on the left-hand side.
- 3. Check the main controls and settings, observing the simulation's behavior. From the top panel, select the star's system.

Simulation has good values _____ units.
 Units for your position _____ m.
 Number of stars _____ units.
 Speed of rotating object _____ units.

Activity 2: Other Full Simulations

- 1. Click on the star's system and the controls and settings are on the right. The position of the objects in simulation are displayed on the right-hand side.
- 2. From the top panel, select the star's system and the controls and settings are on the right. The position of the objects in simulation are displayed on the right-hand side.

Units for the star _____ m.
 Number of components _____ units.
 Number of the components of the system _____ units.

- 1. Change the mass of the star's system, and observe the system's behavior. Set it to 1000, or 100.
