significance of the land in attempts to make a place into a home The emphasis on the importance of landscape as a defining feature ignores the important roles played by other influences brought to the land such as history culture gender ethnicity religion community family and occupation Deborah Keahey considers over 70 years of Canadian Prairie literature including poetry autobiography drama and fiction The 17 writers range from the well established like Martha Ostenso and Robert Kroetsch to newer writers like Ian Ross and Kelly Rebar Through their works she asks whether the Prairies are a physical or a political creation whether home is made by what you bring with you or what you find when you arrive and she incorporates the influences and effects far beyond landscape to understand what guides the home making process of both the writers and their creations Her study acknowledges that home is a complicated concept and making a place into a home place is a complicated process Informed by current linguistic feminist postcolonial and cultural theory Keahey explores these concepts in depth and redefines our understanding of place home and the relationship between them Film & Video Finder ,1997

The Social Life of Opium in China Zheng Yangwen,2005-09-08 In a remarkable and broad ranging narrative Yangwen

Zheng's book explores the history of opium consumption in China from 1483 to the late twentieth century. The story begins in the mid Ming dynasty when opium was sent as a gift by vassal states and used as an aphrodisiac in court. Over time the Chinese people from different classes and regions began to use it for recreational purposes so beginning a complex culture of opium consumption. The book traces this transformation over a period of five hundred years asking who introduced opium to China how it spread across all sections of society embraced by rich and poor alike as a culture and an institution. The book which is accompanied by a fascinating collection of illustrations will appeal to students and scholars of history anthropology sociology political science economics and all those with an interest in China.

Diasporic Women's Writing of the Black Atlantic Emilia María Durán-Almaraz, Esther Álvarez López, 2013-10-30 This book brings together a complete set of approaches to works by female authors that articulate the black Atlantic in relation to the interplay of race class and gender. The chapters provide the grounds to engender a more complex understanding of the scattered geographies of the African diaspora in the Atlantic basin. The variety of approaches displayed bears witness to the vitality of a field that over the years has become a diasporic formation itself as it incorporates critical insights and theoretical frameworks from multiple disciplines in the social sciences and the humanities thus exposing the manifold character of black diasporic interconnections within and beyond the Atlantic. Focusing on a wide array of contemporary literary and performance texts by women writers and performers from diverse locations including the Caribbean Canada Africa the US and the UK chapters visit genres such as performance art the novel science fiction short stories and music. For these purposes the volume is organized around two significant dimensions of diasporas on the one hand the material corporeal and spatial locations where those displacements associated with travel and exile occur and on the other the fluid environments and networks that connect distant places cultures and times. This collection explores the ways in which women of African descent shape the cultures and histories in the modern colonial and postcolonial Atlantic worlds.
