Applied Rasch Measurement: A Book of Exemplars Sivakumar Alagumalai, David D. Curtis, Njora Hungi, 2006-03-30 While the primary purpose of the book is a celebration of John's contributions to the field of measurement a second and related purpose is to provide a useful resource We believe that the combination of the developmental history and theory of the method the examples of its use in practice some possible future directions and software and data files will make this book a valuable resource for teachers and scholars of the Rasch method This book is a tribute to Professor John P Keeves for the advocacy of the Rasch model in Australia Happy 80th birthday John xii There are good introductory texts on Item Response Theory Objective Measurement and the Rasch model However for a beginning researcher keen on utilising the potentials of the Rasch model theoretical discussions of test theory and associated indices do not meet their pragmatic needs Furthermore many researchers in measurement still have little or no knowledge of the features of the Rasch model and its use in a variety of situations and disciplines This book attempts to describe the underlying axioms of test theory and in particular the concepts of objective measurement and the Rasch model and then link theory to practice We have been introduced to the various models of test theory during our graduate days It was time for us to share with those keen in the field of measurement in education psychology and the social sciences the theoretical and practical aspects of objective measurement

Learning From Others Diane Shorrocks-Taylor, Edgar W. Jenkins, 2005-12-20 Diane Shorrocks Taylor School of Education University of Leeds UK In September 1998 a conference was held at the University of Leeds entitled International comparisons of pupil performance issues and policy It was arranged by two groups within the School of Education at the University the newly formed Assessment and Evaluation Unit and the Centre for Studies in Science and Mathematics Education The joint interest in international comparisons of performance had itself arisen from earlier involvement in a follow up study of the 1995 TIMSS work in England reported in a later chapter in this book in which the TIMSS assessment outcomes were studied alongside the outcomes from the National Curriculum testing programme in England Some of the results of this investigation had proved both interesting and challenging so the decision was made to promote wider discussion of some key issues by inviting contributors from all over the world to a meeting the major aims of which were to promote an exploration of the theoretical foundations of international comparative studies of student performance the practical problems of carrying out such studies the appropriateness of the assessment models and approaches used in international comparisons the role of international comparative studies in raising standards of student performance and how international studies affect the shaping of national policy on education Mathematics Achievement of Immigrant Students Dirk Hastedt, 2016-04-04 This book examines the mathematics achievement of immigrant students on the basis of data from the IEA Trends in International Mathematics and Science Study TIMSS It combines an analysis of large scale assessment data with an in depth exploration of policy studies and transforms the insights gained into recommendations on how to promote better education for students with an immigrant background In a world defined by globalization education systems face the challenge of providing high quality education for an increasing number of immigrant students This book addresses topical questions such as the circumstances and policies that promote good education and why some countries are more successful than others in catering for the needs of this very diverse group of students It provides details on the differences between immigrants and non immigrants in education includes case studies on policies of two successful countries and gives hints to policy makers for policies that can help improve the situation for immigrant students in schools IJER Vol 21-N3 International Journal of Educational Reform,2012-06-12 The mission of the International Journal of Educational Reform IJER is to keep readers up to date with worldwide developments in education reform by providing scholarly information and practical analysis from recognized international authorities As the only peer reviewed scholarly publication that combines authors voices without regard for the political affiliations perspectives or research methodologies IJER provides readers with a balanced view of all sides of the political and educational mainstream To this end IJER includes but is not limited to inquiry based and opinion pieces on developments in such areas as policy administration curriculum instruction law and research IJER should thus be of interest to professional educators with decision making roles and policymakers at all levels turn since it provides a broad based conversation between and among policymakers practitioners and academicians about reform goals objectives and methods for success throughout the world Readers can call on IJER to learn from an international group of reform implementers by discovering what they can do that has actually worked IJER can also help readers to understand the pitfalls of current reforms in order to avoid making similar mistakes Finally it is the mission of IJER to help readers to learn about key issues in school reform from movers and shakers who help to study and shape the power base directing educational reform in the U S and the world Monitoring Educational Achievement T. Neville Postlethwaite,International Institute for Educational Planning,2004 This publication examines the importance of quality assessment in education systems drawing on national and international case studies It explains what monitoring educational achievement means based on outputs pupil achievement rather than inputs education provided It also considers key technical standards for sample survey work in monitoring systems which can be used by educational planners working in different school contexts and systems
