PUNKER V. DIES MOYNES, P. T-11

1. According to Justice Alito Fortas, public school officials are allowed to censor students' speech if it "materially and substantially" interferes with normal school activities or violates the rights of others.
2. Fortas explains that the courts need to respect the authority of the states and school officials to keep order in school.
3. There was no evidence that the wearing of armbands interfered with the work of the school. According to Fortas, the students "ceased discussion outside of the classrooms, but no interference with work and no disorder."

4. The Court ruled that students have the constitutional right to freedom of speech and expression at school—up to a point. Students are allowed to express themselves at school as long as their actions do not disrupt learning or interfere with the rights of others. The justices noted that schools must balance students' First Amendment rights with the need to maintain order.
5. Answers will vary but may include racism or threats of violence, because those types of expression could interfere with other students' safety or ability to learn.
