Paul E. Quin

Little Red Riding Hood Picture Sequence:

Non-fluent Aphasia in a Multilingual World, 1995-01-01 Non fluent Aphasia in a Multilingual World is an up to date introduction to the language of patients with non fluent aphasia Recent research in languages other than English has challenged our old descriptions of aphasia syndromes while their patterns can be recognized across languages the structure of each language has a profound effect on the symptoms of aphasic speech However the basic linguistic concepts needed to understand these effects in languages other than English have rarely been part of the training of the clinician Non fluent Aphasia in a Multilingual World introduces these concepts plainly and concretely in the context of dozens of examples from the narratives and conversations of patients speaking most of the major languages of Europe North America and Asia Linguistic and clinical terms are carefully defined and kept as theory neutral as possible Non Fluent Aphasia in a Multilingual World is especially useful for speech language pathologists whose patients are immigrants and guestworkers and for the clinician who must deal creatively with the challenges of providing aphasia diagnosis and therapy in a multicultural multidialectical setting Care and Training of Boys and Girls Mary Davoren Chambers, 1925 Agrammatic Aphasia Lise Menn, Loraine K. Obler, Gabriele Miceli, 1990 This major reference work fills a need long recognized in neurolinguistics a source for analyzable speech transcripts from agrammatic aphasic patients that provides detailed grammatical descriptions and distributional analyses This 3 volume set is unique in that it presents narrative speech from carefully selected clinically comparable patients speakers of 14 languages and parallel narratives by normal speakers For each of the 14 languages there is a case presentation chapter analyzing and discussing the language of agrammatic patients followed by primary data which are organized as follows running text of speech by two patients interlinear morphemic translations of those texts running text of speech elicited from two normal control subjects plus interlinear translations tables and figures analyzing distributional properties of the patients speech results of comprehension tests of the patients transcriptions of patients oral reading and writing samples Neurological information is included with the case presentations and a short grammatical sketch of each language is added to make the work on all languages accessible even to those who only read English Language findings are presented for English Dutch German Icelandic Swedish French Italian Polish Serbo Croatian Hindi Finnish Hebrew Chinese and Japanese The book is an indispensable reference work for all linguists psycholinguists and neurolinguists who wish to test their theories against a massive body of data Discourse Patterns in Aphasia Elisabeth Ahlsén, 1985

Developing Preschool Language Classrooms Paul E. Quin, 1990 This text is designed to assist in the replication of a successful classroom home language intervention program for mildly to moderately language impaired preschool children The first portion of the manual discusses the rationale and operation of the program Provided in the second part are sample lesson plans which provide specific examples of the integration of language remediation targets into preschool activities

 After an introductory chapter a literature review examines a pragmatic approach to language intervention in the classroom Appended to this chapter are resources on pragmatic skills The next chapter considers the use of space furniture and learning materials in the classroom and includes a checklist for arranging and equipping a classroom Staffing and training in the preschool language classroom are discussed next and samples of school newsletters and forms for training and home visits provided The next chapter addresses planning and scheduling of language intervention and is followed by a consideration of classroom management with guidelines for managing behavior and a review of data collection in the classroom Provided for each lesson plan in Part II is information on language targets materials and procedures References
