Equipping Space Cadets does not stop with literary analysis but also presents the voices of real children and practitioners. The book features three studies: a survey of teachers and librarians, quantitative analysis of lending records from school libraries across the United States, and coded read aloud sessions with elementary school students. The results reveal how children are interested in and capable of reading science fiction, but it is the adults, including the most well intentioned librarians and teachers, who hinder children's engagement with the genre due to their own preconceptions about the genre and children.
