between cortical midline structures CMS and self is reinforced by the involvement of these regions in other self oriented processes such as mind wandering or stimulus valuation Those midline regions involved in self processing also overlap with another network the default mode network which shows high brain activity during the so called resting state indicating that there may be a special relationship between self processing and intrinsic activity Although such promising groundwork linking the self and CMS has been carried out many questions remain These include what features of the midline regions lead to their apparent importance in self processing How can we appropriately account for confounding factors such as familiarity or task effects in our experiments How is the self related to other features of the mind such as consciousness How is our methodology influencing our attempts to link the self and the brain The purpose of this ebook is to address some of these questions including opinions perspectives and hypotheses about the concept of the self the relationship between CMS and the self and the specific function of these brain regions in self processing It also includes original research papers describing EEG fMRI and behavioral experiments investigating different aspects of the self Whitaker's Cumulative Book List ,1966

Ortega,Alexander Gómez-A, Lucas Cuenya,Javier Leonardo Rico,2020-05-11 Latin America has increased its share of world scientific publications by nearly twofold during the last two decades approximately from 2 to 4% Despite this positive trend the scholarly impact of scientific research produced in the region measured in terms of citation rate remains low Two interrelated factors that contribute to this situation is that most research groups tend to work in isolation or in local sporadic collaboration and results are often published in journals that are not indexed in major citation databases e g SCOPUS or Web of Science Ultimately part of Latin American high quality research seems to remain hidden from the rest of the world Over the last decades an important number of Latin American scientists have developed fruitful research agendas on questions on learning and emotion focusing on basic and or translational research with humans and other animal models and implementing diverse methodologies Notwithstanding the important contributions of these research programs Latin American research on emotion and learning has followed the overall trend of other research fields throughout the region namely remaining partially hidden from the large scientific community of the world This Research Topic aimed to engage researchers from Latin America to share their empirical and conceptual work on learning and emotion Ultimately this effort was expected to strengthen and integrate our regional community of experts enhance global networking and establish new challenges and developments for future investigation
