Soil Coefficients: CAS, COS and CUS

Factors and considerations in the construction industry.

p24

THE SOIL ABSORPTION COEFFICIENT (CAS), Land Use Coefficient (CUS) and Land Occupation Coefficient (COS) are three of the most important aspects that must be considered during the initial stage of any architectural and urban project, as they have a direct impact on the viable building possibilities for any given property. These mathematical factors are part of the regulations that each state within Mexico establishes within its urban planning and territorial ordering programs, which are then applied by each municipality.

EL COEFICIENTE DE ABSORCIÓN DEL SUELO (CAS), el Coeficiente de Utilización del Suelo (CUS) y el Coeficiente de Ocupación del Suelo (COS) son tres de los aspectos más importantes que se deben considerar durante la etapa inicial de cualquier proyecto arquitectónico y urbano, pues repercuten directamente sobre la manera en que se puede edificar en un determinado predio. Estos factores matemáticos forman parte de las normativas que cada estado del país establece dentro de sus programas de planeación urbana y ordenamiento territorial y son aplicados por cada municipio.
