Metropolitan Petro Mohyla And The Orthodox Confession Of Faith:

Metropolitan Petro Mohyla and the Orthodox Confession of Faith Andre Partykevich, 2014-11-24 How can someone be a saint in one Orthodox Church and dismissed as a minor heretic in another Orthodox Church In 1996 the Orthodox Church had a new saint Petro Mohyla Peter Mogila or Petru Movila Metropolitan of Kyiv and All Rus He was canonized by the Orthodox Churches in Ukraine and is glorified as a saint in the Russian Orthodox Church as well as the Romanian Orthodox Church And yet the Church of Greece does not recognize Mohyla as a saint Why What is it about this bishop of the seventeenth century that is so controversial that he is not glorified by the entire Orthodox world This short work on the life of Mohyla concentrates on his controversial Orthodox Confession of Faith a catechesis which was approved by several Ecumenical Patriarchs of Constantinople as well as numerous Patriarchs of Moscow Included in this work is an analysis of Mohyla's Euchologion Trebnik which also contains several controversial practices The Cossacks and Religion in Early Modern Ukraine Serhii Plokhyy, 2001-11-08 The Ukrainian Cossacks often compared in historical literature to the pirates of the Mediterranean and the frontiersmen of the American West constituted one of the largest Cossack hosts in the European steppe borderland They became famous as ferocious warriors their fighting skills developed in their religious wars against the Tartars Turks Poles and Russians By and large the Cossacks were Orthodox Christians and quite early in their history they adopted a religious ideology in their struggle against those of other faiths Their acceptance of the Muscovite protectorate in 1654 was also influenced by their religious ideas In this pioneering study Serhii Plokhyy examines the confessionalization of religious life in the early modern period and shows how Cossack involvement in the religious struggle between Eastern Orthodoxy and Roman Catholicism helped shape not only Ukrainian but also Russian and Polish cultural identities Orthodox Confession of the Eastern Catholic and Apostolic Church St. Peter (Mogila), Metr. of Kiev, 2021-12-02 Wealth without work Pleasure without conscience Science without humanity Knowledge without character Politics without principle Commerce without morality Worship without sacrifice <https://vidjambov.blogspot.com/2023/01/book-inventory-vladimir-djambov-talmach.html> Why is the book presented at the Council of 1640 so remarkable The patriarch of Jerusalem and all Palestine Nektarios a contemporary of St Peter explained this by the fact that it contains a confession that is right and pure not having in itself the slightest admixture from the novelties of any other Confessions Peter Mogila he wrote in the preface when he was elected and ordained an Orthodox Metropolitan found his flock infected with some new opinions of unbelievers opinions completely contrary to the right ancient teaching Therefore as a good Shepherd and a zealous defender of the Faith he undertook a God pleasing intention to win over and turn the Russian Church to that pure teaching which she adhered to at first and all new opinions that have arisen in it to destroy by the root and thus to fertilize his spiritual field and to make it fruitful Thinking well about his business he immediately set to work He summoned men who were famous for their enlightenment from his diocese to the Metropolitanate and even before that he summoned three bishops under his control

We discussed a lot and in the end everyone with general advice and agreement decided to write a summary of his Faith which was done Before this Catechism of St Peter there were ancient confessions and statements of faith against ancient heresies and catechisms that were written after the fall of the Roman Church But since the 16th century the situation has changed since Protestantism arose in the West and the previous beliefs became insufficient they did not give answers to new questions and did not have information about new delusions
