Chapter 2

Managerial Accounting and Cost Concepts

Solutions to Questions

2-1 Managers carry out three major activities in an organization: planning, directing and motivating, and controlling. Planning involves establishing a basic strategy, selecting a course of action, and specifying how the action will be implemented. Directing and motivating involves mobilizing people to carry out plans and run routine operations. Controlling involves ensuring that the plan is actually carried out and is appropriately modified as circumstances change.

2-2 The planning and control cycle involves formulating plans, implementing plans, measuring performance, and evaluating differences between planned and actual performance.

2-3 In contrast to financial accounting, Managerial Accounting for Managers: (1) focuses on the needs of managers rather than outsiders; (2) emphasizes decisions affecting the future rather than the financial consequences of past actions; (3) emphasizes relevance rather than objectivity and verifiability; (4) emphasizes timeliness rather than precision; (5) emphasizes the segments of an organization rather than summary data concerning the entire organization; (6) is not governed by GAAP; and (7) is not mandatory.

2-4 The three major elements of product costs in a manufacturing company are direct materials, direct labor, and manufacturing overhead.

a. Direct materials are an integral part of a finished product and their costs can be conveniently traced to it.

b. Indirect materials are generally small items of material such as glue and nails. They may be an integral part of a finished product but their costs can be traced to the product only at great cost or inconvenience.

financial accounting content Managerial Accounting for Managers 2nd Edition is geared towards professors who love Garrison's market leading managerial accounting content but have been bothered by the debits and credits included in the book. The job order costing chapter has been extensively rewritten to remove all journal entries. Furthermore, the chapters dealing with process costing, the statement of cash flows, and financial statement analysis have been dropped to enable professors to focus their attention on the bedrocks of managerial accounting: planning, control, and decision making.

Accounting for Managers: Second Edition: A Business Decision Guide Steven Mark Bragg, 2016-01-10 Non-financial managers need a sufficient knowledge of accounting to interpret a company's financial statements and make key business decisions. Accounting for Managers describes how accounting transactions are compiled into financial statements and how information about company performance can be extracted from those statements. It also discusses a number of accounting-based decision tools and how they can be used to improve upon business decisions in many areas. Topics covered include the interpretation of financial statements, selected accounting standards pertinent to general management, cost accounting tools, constraint analysis, budgeting, and decision processes in human resources, sales, and marketing operations, and other areas.
