Ageing with Dignity in Hong Kong and Asia
Vincent Tin Sing Law, Ben Yuk Fai Fong, 2022-09-12. This book advocates the application of holistic and humanistic approaches in elderly care and services to achieve the goal of ageing with dignity in Hong Kong and Asia. It responds to the needs of an increasing ageing population that has to deal with related health needs in long-term care, community health, and social services, particularly for chronic conditions and psychosocial support. The book consists of three sections on policy and development of aged care, holistic and humanistic care for older adults, and capacity building for ageing with dignity, respectively. Topics include the latest initiatives in aged care, appropriate services and delivery models, lifestyle modification, psychosocial and environmental considerations, professional development, technologies, and social capital. The chapters review and discuss these issues within a global context, illustrated by examples from Asian countries, underpinned by locally based empirical research. Contributors include academics and practitioners from diversified professional backgrounds that include medicine, nursing, pharmacy, traditional Chinese medicine, dietetics, and allied health. The book traverses into territories in the social sciences life sciences and sports sciences while also touching on areas of business and administration hospitality law public policy and information technology in connection with public health The contents serve as a topical reference for tertiary studies in ageing and related disciplines such as well being and are also useful to policymakers community and public health practitioners health executives and interns working in areas of policy and practice pertinent to care development health delivery models planning quality ethics better health promotion professional training and monitoring for older adults Boredom: The Elephant in the Room Doris Sommer,Robert D. Austin,Alexandra Vuyk,David M.

Ndetei,Nicolas Prevelakis,Pier Luigi Sacco,Josefa Ros Velasco,2024-07-16 When cases of domestic violence spiked during the COVID 19 lockdowns terror spread among potential victims while governments that enforced the isolation seemed helpless to address the damages Vulnerable partners children and parents were hostage to possible perpetrators given the risks of retaliation at home and the danger of death by contamination in shelters The alarm raises questions about under examined triggers for violence against others and oneself One common trigger is boredom It is the elephant in the room a known stressor in institutional settings schools prisons and military installations and otherwise out of focus despite the ubiquity of gender based violence Detecting the ravages of boredom in apparently safe domestic settings hints at a range of meanings for the word and a web of personal and collective dysfunctions including anxiety depression feelings of worthlessness and anomie Conventional remedies for these challenges do not address the escalating rates of violence to oneself and to others Their evident ineffectiveness during the crisis laid bare structural flaws in standard human development strategies which span home and school environments the law and approaches to mental health A major flaw has been the narrow perspectives of one or another discipline when the dangers are interrelated and demand multidisciplinary approaches Chronic violence and alarming rates of depression before during and after the pandemic show failures of predictable perspectives and their recommendations even in normal conditions The question of how authorities should react to harm done begs the question of how to prevent harm from happening Prevention rather than punishment for crimes or treatment for pathologies has become a preferred approach for both legal and clinical interventions To stop violence before it erupts requires investigation into its causes because treating the effects of aggression evacuating victims punishing perpetrators counselling patients addresses symptoms rather than diseases Why was the lockdown a time of increased domestic violence What accounts for recent spikes in teen suicides What are the existing and possible tools for measuring boredom Answers from experts stay within foreseeable observations about the loss of jobs the increase of alcoholism social media addiction and psychological stress These familiar answers do not lead beyond the description of pathological patterns But different approaches may follow from attending to the under examined danger of having nothing to do Undocumented Storytellers Sarah C.

Bishop,2018-12-03 Undocumented Storytellers offers a critical exploration of the ways undocumented immigrant activists harness the power of storytelling to mitigate the fear and uncertainty of life without legal status and to advocate for immigration reform Sarah C Bishop chronicles the ways young people uncover their lack of legal status experientially through interactions with parents in attempts to pursue rites of passage reserved for citizens and as audiences of political and popular media She provides both theoretical and pragmatic contextualization as activist narrators recount the experiences that influenced their decisions to cultivate public voices Bishop draws from a mixed methodology of in depth interviews with undocumented immigrants from eighteen unique nations of origin critical rhetorical ethnographies of immigrant rights events and protests and narrative analysis of immigrant produced digital media to interrogate the power and limitations of narrative activism Autobiographical immigrant storytelling refutes mainstream discourse on immigration and reveals the determination of individuals who elsewhere have been vilified by stereotype and presupposition Offering an unparalleled view into the ways immigrants stories appear online Bishop illuminates digital narrative strategies by detailing how undocumented storytellers reframe their messages when stories have unintended consequences The resulting work provides broad insights into the role of strategic framing and autobiographical story sharing in advocacy and social movements
