Mati, John M. Muchiri, Kennedy Njenga, Frits Penning de Vries, Douglas J. Merrey, 2006-06-02 This report thus presents the results of a study to determine access to water sources by pastoral communities and their livestock in Isiolo District of Kenya with special focus on water availability during drought conditions The study was conducted between 2002 and 2003 It utilized GIS tools and information gathered through rapid assessments involving researchers government officers local communities and NGOs Isiolo is an ASAL district in Eastern Province of Kenya where pastoral livestock systems form the main economic activity but water scarcity and recurrent drought are major constraints From the study GIS thematic maps were developed to include rainfall distribution land use cover drainage systems hydrogeology and grazing potential as well as types and location of water sources their operational status and major characteristics A Nexus Approach for Sustainable Development Stephan Hülsmann, Mahesh Jampani, 2020-11-10 This book explores how integrated management of environmental resources via a nexus approach can help in achieving the respective Sustainable Development Goals SDGs It provides conceptual considerations but mainly practical examples on how to implement a nexus approach in cities and multifunctional land use systems to increase resource use efficiency and develop a low carbon economy After sketching out the background and conceptual outline contributions to the book explore key aspects of the nexus implementation Specifically they Demonstrate how to sustainably use organic waste and wastewater for agriculture Explore examples on how to manage multifunctional land use systems including multipurpose reservoirs Highlight the importance of economic incentives for successful nexus implementation and Provide a comprehensive perspective on challenges and opportunities of implementation considering peer to peer learning indigenous knowledge and stakeholder participation The chapters in this book shed a new light on key aspects of the interrelation between SDGs and the nexus approach in resilient cities and multifunctional land use systems and provide specific examples on how to advance sustainable resources management Agricultural Irrigation Aliasghar Montazar, 2019-11-28 Agriculture is certainly the most important food supplier while it globally accounts for more than 70% of water used and contributes significantly to water pollution Irrigated agriculture is facing rising competition worldwide for access to reliable low cost and high quality water resources However irrigation as the major tool and determinant of affecting agricultural productivity and environmental resources plays a critical role in food security and environment sustainability Innovative irrigation technologies and practices may enhance agricultural water efficiency and production in the meantime decrease the water demand and quality issues I am very pleased to invite you to submit manuscripts in agricultural irrigation which assess current challenges and offer improvement approaches and opportunities for future irrigation Kenya Engineer ,2005

Pathways to African Food Security Michiel de Haas,Ken E. Giller,2025-01-31 This book examines Africa s current food system and future challenges for food security over the next 25 years Africa is on the rise and by 2050 the continent will be home to a quarter of the world s population The analysis presented in this book clearly shows that the African food system needs to transform at a much faster pace to ensure that the people it serves are food secure This book begins with four contrasting case studies that focus on country specific challenges in Egypt Ethiopia Senegal and Zimbabwe This is followed by 15 thematic chapters organised in three sections on challenges threats and opportunities Individual chapters address a wide range of topics including climate change water security farm sizes crop yields conservation trade offs food prices trade conflict and structural change The book concludes by discussing key pathways to improve Africa s food system and food security for the decades ahead This book is essential reading for students scholars and practitioners who work on global food security sustainable food systems food health and nutrition and African development The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license Proceedings of 2005 JKUAT Scientific, Technological, and Industrialisation Conference ,2006

Nile River Basin Assefa M. Melesse,Wossenu Abtew,Shimelis G. Setegn,2014-02-13 The book provides a comprehensive overview of the hydrology of the Nile River especially the ecohydrological degradation and challenges the basin is facing the impact of climate change on water availability and the transboundary water management issues The book includes analysis and approaches that will help provide different insights into the hydrology of this complex basin which covers 11 countries and is home to over 300 million people The need for water sharing agreements that reflect the current situations of riparian countries and are based on equitable water sharing principles is stressed in many chapters This book explores water resource availability and quality and their trends in the basin soil erosion and watershed degradation at different scales water and health land use and climate change impact transboundary issues and water management dams reservoirs and lakes The link between watershed and river water quantity and quality is discussed pointing out the importance of watershed protection for better water resource management water accessibility institutional set up and policy water demand and management The book also presents the water sharing sticking points in relation to historical treaties and the emerging water demands of the upstream riparian countries The need for collaboration and identification of common ground to resolve the transboundary water management issues and secure a win win is also indicated Kenya Gazette ,2008-07-25 The Kenya Gazette is an official publication of the government of the Republic of Kenya It contains notices of new legislation notices required to be published by law or policy as well as other announcements that are published for general public information It is published every week usually on Friday with occasional releases of
