

Strategy 1: The Number Line

After students have studied pages 1 and 2, ask students to work in pairs to create a number line graphing the given division problems. Once students have an understanding of how to label points, assign students to determine and graph points that represent the division quotients.

The same problem was presented a third time with the use of a number line below the number line for graphing the quotient. This is presented as the second of two steps in the strategy for graphing.

Page 2AProblem Set: Number Line Graphs and Division Equations

Each student has a number line graph on page 1. Students will represent equations that have given number values leading to that number. Each student will represent a given number value. For this work students will graph the number values on a number line graph and label the points with the given number values. For each number value, students will graph the number value on the number line graph and label the point with the given number value.

1. The division problem given below is shown on page 1. Complete the table.
