beginning of each chapter I'll show you a short Go program and will ask you to guess the output. The possible answers can be won't compile, Panic, Deadlock. Some output e.g. 1 2 3. Before moving on to the answer and the explanation go ahead and guess the output. After guessing the output I encourage you to run the code and see the output yourself only then proceed to read the solution and the explanation. I've been teaching programming for many years and found this course of action to be highly effective.
